WEEK 7

MINNESOTA (2-3) AT GREEN BAY (3-3)
Sunday, Oct. 24 • Lambeau Field • 7:20 p.m. CDT

PACKERS HOST VIKINGS IN PRIME-TIME DIVISIONAL GAME

Green Bay hosts the division-rival Minnesota Vikings on Sunday night at Lambeau Field in a nationally televised game.

- ▶ This is the third straight year and the fifth time in six seasons that the border rivals have squared off in a prime-time matchup.
- ▶ It is the first time since 2003 that the teams will meet in a Sunday night contest. Green Bay won the Nov. 2, 2003, matchup at the Metrodome, 30-27. Prior to that the teams had squared off on Sunday night twice before (1990 and 2002).
- ▶ The Packers have an 18-8 (.692) mark against NFC North opponents under Head Coach Mike McCarthy, which ranks first among NFC North teams over that span, including a 10-3 (.769) mark at home. Green Bay's divisional record since '06 is tied for fourth in the NFL, and the Packers have posted a 4-2 record or better in the division each season under McCarthy.
- ▶ Sunday night's contest is the second straight home game for a Green Bay team that is in the midst of a stretch of three of four games at Lambeau Field.
- ▶ Green Bay had its six-game home winning streak snapped this past Sunday in a 23-20 overtime loss to the Miami Dolphins, the third loss for the Packers this season by three points and their second straight in overtime. The Packers have won 20 of 29 games (.690), including playoffs, at Lambeau Field since 2007.
- ▶ Next Sunday, the Packers will travel to New York to face the Jets in a noon (CDT) contest at New Meadowlands Stadium. It is the first time since 2002 that the Jets have hosted Green Bay. Minnesota visits New England next Sunday for a 3:15 (CDT) game with the Patriots.

WITH THE CALL

NBC Sports will broadcast the Sunday Night Football contest to a national audience. Play-by-play man Al Michaels joins color commentator Cris Collinsworth in the broadcast booth with Andrea Kremer reporting from the sidelines.

- ▶ Fans also can check out the action online, where the broadcast will be streamed on NBCSports.com and NFL.com.
- ▶ Milwaukee's WTMJ (620 AM), airing Green Bay games since 1929, heads up the 53-station Packers Radio Network, with Wayne Larrivee (play-by-play) and two-time Packers Pro Bowler Larry McCarren (color) calling the action. The duo enters its 12th season of broadcasts together across the Packers Radio Network, which covers 43 markets in five states.
- ▶ Westwood One radio will air the game across the country. Dave Sims (play-by-play) and former Packers WR James Lofton (analyst) will call the action, with Hub Arkush on the sidelines. Scott Graham hosts pregame and halftime shows.
- ▶ ESPN International will air the contest in three languages to over 180 countries.
- ▶ For out-of-town listeners, the broadcast is available to NFL Field Pass subscribers on www.packers.com as well as on Sirius Satellite Radio (channel 126 WTMJ feed) as part of the network's NFL Sunday Drive.

AN EVENLY MATCHED SERIES

Few rivalries in sports have exhibited the parity of the Green Bay-Minnesota series since it began in 1961.

- ▶ Through 98 meetings, which includes one postseason game, the Packers hold a slight 49-48-1 advantage over the Vikings.
- ▶ Fans can bet on a back-and-forth contest when these two clubs meet, one that always seems to come down to the final possession. In fact, 13 of the past 15 regular-season games have been decided by seven points or less, the lone exceptions being the Packers' 34-0 blanking of the Vikings in 2007 at Lambeau Field and Minnesota's 38-26 victory in Green Bay last season.
- ▶ Not only do the games seem to always come down to the last possession, but more recently they have come down to a final kick. From 2004-2008, six out of the 10 contests were decided by a field goal at the end of the fourth quarter. Vikings K Ryan Longwell kicked two game-winning field goals – for the Packers – in the '04 meetings.
- ▶ The Vikings swept the series in 2009 and have won the past three matchups against the Packers. Prior to that, Green Bay had won each time against Minnesota in Head Coach Mike McCarthy's first five games vs. the Vikings.

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

TAKEAWAY POINTS KEY FOR PACKERS

In the second year of Dom Capers' 3-4 scheme, the Packers are once again showing their knack for producing takeaways, which they have continued to turn into points this season.

- ▶ Of the Packers' nine takeaways this season, six of them have been converted into touchdowns. That 66.7 TD percentage ranks first in the NFL (minimum five takeaways), and Green Bay's six touchdowns off of takeaways leads the NFL.
- ▶ Green Bay's 42 points off of takeaways so far this season rank No. 4 in the league behind Detroit (47), Atlanta (43) and Tennessee (43).
- ▶ Scoring points off of turnovers has become a trend for the Packers at Lambeau Field, as they have a current streak of 13 straight games at home with points scored that were set up by a takeaway. That home streak ranks first in the NFL.
- ▶ Green Bay posted 30 interceptions and 10 fumble recoveries in 2009, which it turned into 141 points. The 40 takeaways led the NFL, and the 141 points scored off those 40 takeaways tied New Orleans for most in the league.
- ▶ The 30 interceptions led the league and was the team's highest single-season total since 1981, when it also had 30.
- ▶ The Packers (12) are one of only five teams in the league to have 12 or more players pick off a pass since 2009.
- ▶ Last season Green Bay surpassed its 2008 total of 124 points off takeaways, which led the NFL in '08. It also eclipsed its '08 total in interceptions (22) and fumble recoveries (six) while at the same time protecting the ball at a better clip. Green Bay's 16 giveaways was the lowest total in the NFL in 2009.
- ▶ If the Packers don't commit a turnover, like they didn't against Buffalo in Week 2, they're almost guaranteed to win. They have now won 39 of 43 games playing turnover-free football, since a loss at Dallas, Nov. 18, 1996. Green Bay's only losses in such games during that stretch came three times against Minnesota, twice in Minneapolis (2005, '08) and once at home (2009), and in Week 15 last year at Pittsburgh.
- ▶ Including playoffs, the Packers have won 42 of their last 46 games when they don't turn the ball over.

CLAY FINDS A WAY

Despite sitting out this past Sunday's game vs. Miami due to a hamstring injury, the first time he missed a game in his career, LB Clay Matthews leads the NFL with 8.5 sacks through Week 6.

- ▶ With three sacks against the Buffalo Bills in Week 2, Matthews became the first Packer to post three sacks in back-to-back games since it became an official league statistic in 1982.
- ▶ The performance vs. Buffalo came a week after Matthews registered a career-high three sacks in the Packers' 27-20 season-opening victory at Philadelphia.
- ▶ Matthews was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for Week 2, the second time in his career he has earned the honor. He also won the award last year for his two-sack outing vs. Baltimore in Week 13 on Monday Night Football.
- ▶ Matthews also became the first NFL player to register consecutive three-sack games since Seattle's Patrick Kerney accomplished the feat (Nov. 18-25, 2007).
- ▶ Matthews' six sacks in the first two games of the season were the most ever by a Packer to start a year.
- ▶ His 33 sack yards vs. Buffalo were the most by a Packer since DE Reggie White's 35 on two sacks vs. Minnesota on Oct. 22, 1995. Matthews leads the league with 53.5 sack yards on the season.
- ▶ His six sacks over a two-game span rank second in team history behind only Bryce Paup, who recorded 6.5 sacks in Weeks 3-4 in 1991. Paup posted 4.5 sacks vs. Tampa Bay on Sept. 15, and then followed that up with two more the next week at Miami on Sept. 22.
- ▶ In just 21 career games played, Matthews has posted two or more sacks in a game five times. Those five set a franchise record for the most two-sack games over the first 18 games in a Packers uniform, breaking White's mark of four in his first 18 games with Green Bay (1993-94).
- ▶ Matthews' 18.5 sacks since 2009 lead the NFL, ahead of Dallas' DeMarcus Ware (18) and Philadelphia's Trent Cole (17.5).
- ▶ Matthews' 17 sacks in his first 20 games were the most ever by any NFL player to start a career. It topped the previous mark of 16.5 set by San Diego's Leslie O'Neal (1986, 1988) and the N.Y. Jets' John Abraham (2000-01).
- ▶ In 2009, Matthews set a Packers rookie record with 10 sacks on his way to earning Pro Bowl honors, the first Green Bay rookie to be named to the all-star game since Hall of Fame WR James Lofton in 1978.

OFFENSE STARTING FAST

The opening drives of a half set the tone for a team, and Green Bay's offense is off to a productive start in that department this season.

- ▶ In the first six games this season, the Packers have come away with points on their opening offensive drive four times, twice scoring touchdowns while also kicking two field goals. Their 20 points this season on the first drives of the game rank tied for No. 3 in the NFL behind only New Orleans (31) and Philadelphia (21). Green Bay ranked tied for No. 6 in the NFL in 2009 with 37 points on opening drives.
- ▶ The Packers have also scored two TDs and one field goal on their opening drive of the second half. Those 17 points rank tied for No. 2 in the NFL behind only Atlanta (19), and Green Bay is already on the heels of the 2009 team that scored 20 points all season on opening second-half drives (No. 20).
- ▶ Green Bay has averaged 49.7 yards on its first possession of the second half this year, and the shortest drive, a 39-yarder vs. Buffalo in Week 2, resulted in a touchdown after LB Brandon Chillar returned an interception to the Bills' 39 to set the offense up with a short field.
- ▶ The Packers did not score a touchdown on the first drive of the second half all of 2008, part of a 34-game span without a TD on the first possession after halftime that started late in 2007 and ran all the way until Week 16 vs. Seattle last season.
- ▶ Green Bay snapped that streak with a 6-yard TD run from RB Brandon Jackson against the Seahawks last season, and have now scored a TD on the opening drive of the second half in four of the past eight regular-season games. They have scored points on the first possession of the second half in five of those eight games.

STAT OF THE WEEK

- ▶ On Sunday against Miami, WR Greg Jennings caught an 86-yard touchdown pass from QB Aaron Rodgers, the longest catch by a Packer in a regular-season game in over 15 years.
- ▶ It was the longest reception by a Green Bay player since Robert Brooks hauled in a 99-yard TD from Brett Favre at Chicago on Sept. 11, 1995, on Monday Night Football. WR Donald Driver had a 90-yard TD grab in the 2007 NFC Championship Game on Jan. 20, 2008.
- ▶ The 86-yard TD was the career-long for the fifth-year wide receiver, topping his 83-yard TD grab at Pittsburgh on Dec. 20, 2009, and it was also the fourth 80-yard reception of Jennings' career.
- ▶ Those four 80-yard receptions in the regular season are a franchise record, topping the mark of three set by Driver. Jennings' four 80-yard receptions rank tied for No. 1 among active players with Buffalo WR Lee Evans.
- ▶ Of Jennings' 32 career TD catches, 14 of them (43.8 percent) have been at least 40 yards in length. His average of 34.4 yards per touchdown catch ranks No. 1 among active NFL players with 20 career touchdown receptions, ahead of Minnesota's Bernard Berrian (34.0) and Washington's Santana Moss (32.9).
- ▶ Jennings' 86-yard reception is the third-longest play from scrimmage in the NFL this season behind a pair of players from the NFC North. Chicago RB Matt Forté had an 89-yard TD reception vs. Detroit in Week 1, while Detroit WR Calvin Johnson posted an 87-yard TD catch at the N.Y. Giants in Week 6.

- ▶ The Packers' five-game winning streak that was snapped in 2008 was the longest streak for either team since the Packers won five straight from 1983-85.

- ▶ Over the last 16 seasons (1994-2009), these teams have accounted for 12 NFC Central/North division championships.

NOTABLE CONNECTIONS

Vikings QB Brett Favre played 16 seasons for the Packers (1992-2007), leading the team to four NFC Championship Game appearances and two Super Bowls, and setting all the major NFL passing records for career attempts, completions, yards, TDs and INTs as a member of the Packers...Vikings K Ryan Longwell is Green Bay's all-time leading scorer, having racked up 1,054 points in nine seasons with the Packers (1997-2005)...The Vikings' coaching staff has several ties to the University of Wisconsin, where Childress (1991-98) and asst. offensive line coach

INDIVIDUALLY VS. VIKINGS

QB Aaron Rodgers' first NFL start came against Minnesota at Lambeau in 2008, and he was 18-of-22 for 178 yards with a TD for a 115.5 rating. His 81.8 completion percentage was the second highest in league history for a QB making his first start. Rodgers also threw for a regular-season career-high 384 yards in the first meeting last season...WR Greg Jennings has 29 catches for 386 yards and two TDs in eight career games against the Vikings. He also caught Favre's record-breaking 421st TD pass at Minnesota in 2007...WR Donald Driver established a career high for receiving yards with 191 against the Vikings at Minnesota (Nov. 12, 2006), topping the 162 he had on Dec. 24, 2004, also at the Metrodome. Driver also had a career-high 11 receptions (tie) in that 2004 contest, as well as a career-long 45-yard run on Nov. 2, 2003. In 21 career games, his 84 receptions for 1,223 yards and six TDs are second-most in all categories against any opponent (Detroit)...S Atari Bigby made his first NFL interception to seal victory at Minnesota in 2007; his INT in 2008 (Sept. 8) clinched another victory.

LAST MEETING, REGULAR SEASON

- ▶ Favre (17-of-28, 244 yards, 4 TDs) threw TD passes to TE Visanthe Shiancoe and WR Percy Harvin to stake the Vikings to a 24-6 lead midway through the third quarter before Green Bay rallied.
- ▶ Rodgers (26-of-41, 287 yards, 3 TDs) threw a pair of TDs to TE Spencer Havner as the Packers, helped by the recovery of a fumbled kickoff, pulled within 24-20 late in the third.

THE MEDICAL REPORT

Every team in the league has to deal with injuries at some point in the season, and the Packers have already had to deal with a season's worth in just the opening six weeks.

- ▶ The Packers have lost four players who started in Week 1 for the remainder of the season due to injuries, two on each side of the ball.
- ▶ RB Ryan Grant, coming off back-to-back 1,200-yard seasons, sustained a season-ending ankle injury in Week 1 at Philadelphia. TE Jermichael Finley, whose 301 yards receiving in the first four games was the best start ever to a season by a Green Bay tight end, was lost for the year after suffering a knee injury on the second play from scrimmage at Washington in Week 5.
- ▶ Rookie S Morgan Burnett, who became only the second Packers rookie safety to start a season opener since 1988, sustained a season-ending knee injury against Detroit in Week 4. In the same game, LB Nick Barnett, the No. 2 tackler in franchise history, suffered a wrist injury that brought an end to his season.
- ▶ Against Miami on Sunday, the Packers were without NFL sack leader Clay Matthews (hamstring) and starting DE Ryan Pickett (ankle) for the first time this season, as well as nickel LB Brandon Chillar (shoulder) for the third straight game and starting RT Mark Tauscher (shoulder) for the second straight contest. Nickel CB Sam Shields returned on Sunday after missing the previous two games with a calf injury.
- ▶ Matthews and Pickett both tested their injuries prior to the game against the Dolphins, but were not ready to return to action. Head Coach Mike McCarthy said the team will take the week before determining what their status is for Sunday night, but he is hopeful they will return.
- ▶ For a team that has been hit hard by the injury bug, any good news is welcomed, and the Packers are expecting to see the three players on the PUP list back on the practice field on Wednesday for the first time this season. That group includes a pair of veteran starters, S Atari Bigby and CB Al Harris, and rookie RB James Starks.

PLENTY OF PRODUCTION INSIDE THE 20

Green Bay has had one of the more efficient red-zone offenses in the league over the past two seasons, finishing in the top 10 in the NFL in 2008 and 2009.

- ▶ Through six games this season, the Packers are off to another productive start, having scored touchdowns on 11 of 17 trips inside the opponent's 20. That 64.7 percent touchdown rate ranks No. 5 in the league.
- ▶ Green Bay's 86 points in the red zone this season (11 touchdowns, three field goals) rank No. 11 in the league. The only times the Packers did not score when they got inside the opponent's 20 was at Chicago in Week 3 when Mason Crosby's 37-yard field goal attempt in the third quarter was blocked, in Week 4 when they drove inside Detroit's 20 on the final possession of the game but ran out the clock in the 28-26 win, and in Week 5 at Washington when they didn't convert a fourth-and-goal from the 1 in the second quarter.
- ▶ The highest red-zone conversion mark under Head Coach Mike McCarthy came in 2008, when the Packers ranked No. 6 in the NFL with a 60.4 percent touchdown rate.
- ▶ Much of Green Bay's success in the red zone has to be credited to the play of QB Aaron Rodgers, who has been one of the more efficient signal-callers in the league inside the 20 since taking over as the starter in 2008.
- ▶ In 38 career starts with Green Bay, Rodgers has yet to throw a single interception in the red zone, posting a 109.4 rating on 104-of-168 passing (61.9 percent) for 649 yards and 42 touchdowns.
- ▶ According to STATS, Rodgers' passer rating of 122.1 this season in the red zone ranks No. 5 in the league (min. 15 attempts). Rodgers has connected on 19-of-26 passes (73.1 percent) for 111 yards and six TDs with no INTs in 2010.

MAKING PLAYS ANOTHER WAY

When QB Aaron Rodgers scrambled for a key 16-yard pickup to convert a second-and-13 in Week

- 4 against Detroit on the final drive of the game, it was just another example of his ability to make plays with his feet.
- ▶ With 113 rushing yards on 23 attempts (4.9 avg.) this season, Rodgers ranks No. 3 among NFL QBs in yards on the ground, behind only Philadelphia's Michael Vick (187) and Tampa Bay's Josh Freeman (114).
- ▶ In 2009, Rodgers finished second among all NFL quarterbacks (David Garrard, 323) with 316 rushing yards, the most by a Green Bay QB since Don Majkowski posted 358 yards on the ground in 1989.
- ▶ Rodgers also led all NFL signal-callers with five rushing touchdowns in '09, the most by a Packers QB since Majkowski's five in '89.
- ▶ It was the second straight year Rodgers had posted four touchdowns in a season, making him just the third QB in franchise annals to accomplish that feat (Tobin Rote, 1954-56; Scott Hunter, 1971-72).
- ▶ With his third rushing TD of the season this past Sunday vs. Miami, Rodgers became the first Packers QB since Rote (1954-56) to rush for three or more TDs in three straight seasons.
- ▶ Of his 81 rushing attempts since 2009, nearly a quarter (19) have been for 10 or more yards.
- ▶ A look at where Rodgers ranks on the ground among QBs since 2009:

THE INTERCEPTORS

Leading the way when it comes to takeaways for Green Bay has been the defensive-back tandem of CB Charles Woodson and S Nick Collins.

- ▶ No NFL duo has been more prolific since 2008 when it comes to taking the ball away and making plays after the interception.
- ▶ Woodson leads all NFL players since 2008 with 17 interceptions, with Collins checking in at No. 3 with 13 over that span behind only his teammate and Philadelphia CB Asante Samuel (15).
- ▶ Collins leads all NFL players with 405 interception return yards since '08, but Woodson inched closer with his 48-yard INT return for a TD vs. Detroit in Week 4. He has moved into the No. 2 spot in the league, checking in with 396 INT return yards over the past two-plus seasons.
- ▶ Collins has some work to do if he hopes to keep up with Woodson's pace of return TDs. Woodson leads the league since 2008 with six INT returns for touchdowns, with Collins tied for the No. 2 spot with three scores.
- ▶ The DB duo has helped put the Packers at the top of the leaderboard in all three interception categories since 2008.

Team	Interceptions
1. Green Bay	59
2T. Baltimore	51

EXCERPTS FROM THE COACH – MONDAY, OCT. 18

► (Did you get a chance to watch the penalty on Francois again on the punt?)

Sure did. I had an opportunity to watch all the tape. Had an opportunity to watch the punt after the game.

► (You have used that formation a few times. Did anyone warn you in the past about it?)

It's a new rule this year. It's something that a lot of conversation during the preseason about the formation. It's a formation that's been used against us probably on a weekly basis. We used it throughout the game. The rule states that the player cannot be within a yard of the center. The intent of the rule is for the safety of the snapper. The origin of it really started on field goals, and it was carried over to punt. We had used that formation earlier in the game. It's a legal formation. Why it took so long for the flag and so forth, I do not understand that part. It's illegal formation, offsides, things like that. Just the process of it is what's disturbing. But Robert Francois was lined up a yard from the center. That's what the film shows.

► (Is there any advantage to him lining up a yard away? Should he maybe play it safe and line up 2 yards back?)

Let me ask you this, because I was asked the same question last night. What is the difference between lining up over the ball, if you're the nose guard? Would I tell the nose guard to line up six inches away from the football, just so maybe he's not offsides? Six inches is the difference in a lot of things, particularly at the line of scrimmage. The rule states not within a yard. There's a reason why you have individuals lined up in certain positions. You want to get as close to a yard as you possibly can. I don't think that's any different as far as the teaching purpose that goes on throughout formations, defensive fronts, bump-and-run technique, where the receiver is crowding the ball, whether the defensive line is crowding the ball from the other side. The rule states not within a yard.

► (How much longer can you go with some of these punts that are putting you in bad field position?)

The punting was not good yesterday. I think that's obvious. Tim has been inconsistent, and my mindset in preparation for Minnesota is to keep working with Tim and get him to be more consistent. Frankly I thought he did a good job with his inside the 20, the two punts going in, but the opportunity to change the field position did not happen, especially when we needed it there in overtime. So he needs to do a better job.

► (What will your approach be with Al Harris and Atari Bigby?)

Well, actually we're going to start practicing all three guys coming off of PUP, and frankly, just want to see them out there in the group drills, in the team drills and just see where they are. Because they can't do any more than they've done from a rehab standpoint. So it's time to cut those guys loose. I know they're excited about it, and we're excited to get them on the practice field.

► (Do you have any sense from talking to the doctors where they are or do you just have to see them in practice?)

Well, really when you get to this point from a rehab standpoint, really this is when the doctors turn them over to the coaches. There's nothing else that they feel they can do for all three players as far as getting them ready to play. It's time for them to get into football activities and find out exactly where they are.

► (But the window to start practicing could be later, so I assume you are hearing good things from the doctors?)

Yes. They're professionals. If you just watch them go through the rehab with Mark Lovat and Flea (Bryan Engel), they're ready. They're ready to cross this last hurdle, so it's been all positive, yes.

► (How much can Starks help you, given the fact that he missed his senior season and most of OTAs and all of training camp?)

I think it's obvious that's a huge question mark. Atari and Al Harris have battled, have played in games here, know our system of football. You're talking about two veterans. Starks is really, we just want to get him out and see him in pads and get him in that environment. We're really evaluating him totally differently.

It's become a situation. Anytime you have a tendency and it's produced negative results, you have to look at everything. You have to look at the plays you're calling, you have to look at the execution of it, the defenses that you're getting in those particular situations. I've created a situation column on my call sheet for that, and we'll continue to evaluate that. I think we're a different team than we were two years ago, and I do think this year is different because ... the result is the same, and I totally understand the point of the record and so forth, but there are positives within that. That last drive, to go down and to score to put the game into overtime. In Detroit, they go down and score, and then at the end of that game. And then you look at the Washington game, some of the things that happened, they're correctible. I don't think it's something that we're doing wrong. Frankly, it's a situation that's been evaluated, no different than third down and red zone and everything else has been evaluated on a weekly basis. We'll just continue to work at it, and we need to do a better job. There's no doubt about it.

► (How much of it is on Rodgers, because there were also games in 2008 where you either missed field goals or the defense gave up a score after you took the lead?)

It is going to either be real good or real bad. That is just the nature of the quarterback position in the National Football League, and even more so our offensive system is built around making the quarterback successful. It's a quarterback-friendly system, and anybody that has knowledge of the history of the West Coast offense understands the teaching philosophy and the starting point of how the offense is built from the ground up. And he is a very accountable young man and he'll continue to work. It's not going to change the way we approach games and so forth, but it's a situation that we probably have to maybe spend time on, which is obviously a concern just the way we have been practicing lately just because of other circumstances. It's a situation we need to do a better job in.

► (Was there something they were doing with the sacks?)

You need to look at the sacks. Not all of those sacks were created by the defense. There are a couple of those sacks from our perspective, from our evaluation, that should not occur. Whether it was the timing and the footwork of the quarterback, the last sack on third down we just didn't pick up the TT game with the Mike on the delayed blitz. We just didn't handle that very well at all. It is the same thing as last week. You have five sacks, those are big plays in the game. It changes field position, it changes momentum, there are a lot of things that come out of that, and we have done a good job up until the last two weeks. There has been a little carryover in last week's game to this week, and we need to get that ready because we have an excellent defensive line in Minnesota coming in here Sunday.

► (Do you have a feel for Matthews and Pickett this week?)

No, I don't. Like I said, they are going to play. That is what I am told. They want to play. They are going to do everything they can to get on the field. They both tested Sunday morning before Miami, but they weren't ready to go. We'll see how the week goes and I'll have a better feel probably Thursday I would think.

► (Is there anything that stands out on third down, and do you know why you are seeing so much two-man?)

I think the two teams that we just played are really similar defenses. That is what they believe in, and it isn't like they came in and did a bunch of new things for us. Two-man, if you can keep Aaron Rodgers in the pocket, that's a good coverage to play. But it starts with protection, it starts with the footwork and the timing and everything of your quarterback and making the right decisions, and us winning the one-on-one battles. We had some one-on-one battles, especially early...the thing that is frustrating about us on third downs is the third-and 1 to 5s. We hit on two third-and-11-pluses yesterday, and we start the game with two one-on-ones in the third-and-1 to 5 area and we don't convert those. So we need to do a better job winning the one-on-one battles, whether it is the catch, the separation, and it's just really football. It's technical football.

UNDER PRESSURE

After recording six sacks in Week 1 at Philadelphia, the most by any NFL team on opening weekend, the Packers have followed up that performance with 15 more sacks in the next five games.

- ▶ Green Bay's 21 sacks as a team through Week 5 rank tied for No. 2 in the NFL behind only Tennessee (24). The Packers also rank No. 2 in the league in sack yardage with 148 yards and have had eight different players record a sack.
- ▶ The Packers' 21 sacks through the first six games are the most by a Green Bay defense to start the season since the 2001 squad registered 23 in the opening six contests. The 2001 defense went on to post a franchise-record 52 sacks that season.
- ▶ Green Bay was shut out in the sack column for the first time this season this past Sunday against Miami, failing to register one for just the second time in the past 15 regular-season games.
- ▶ The 21 sacks to start the season were also the most in a five-game span in Head Coach Mike McCarthy's five seasons.
- ▶ Green Bay recorded five sacks at Washington in Week 5, the Packers' second five-sack game this season. Green Bay is one of only two teams in the league (Tennessee) to post two five-sack games in 2010.
- ▶ Of the team's 21 sacks, 8.5 have come courtesy of LB Clay Matthews, who leads the NFL in that category. DE Cullen Jenkins, who ranks second on the team with four sacks, posted a sack in each of the first four games. Green Bay is one of only five teams in the league to have two players with four-plus sacks (N.Y. Giants, Philadelphia, San Diego, Tennessee).
- ▶ The Packers' six sacks in Week 1 were the most in a season opener by Green Bay since 2001, when the Packers registered seven sacks against the Lions on Sept. 9 at Lambeau Field. It was also the most in a game under McCarthy, matching the total of six vs. Detroit on Dec. 17, 2006.
- ▶ The Packers are already well ahead of their sack pace from last season, when Green Bay's 21st sack didn't come until Week 11 vs. the 49ers.
- ▶ Green Bay has posted four or more sacks in a game three times already this season to match its 2009 total. The Packers finished with 37 for the season, which ranked tied for 11th in the league.
- ▶ The Packers' highest sack total under McCarthy came in his first season of 2006 when they recorded 46 sacks, which ranked No. 4 in the NFL.

YOUTH IS SERVED

Whenever injuries occur, it is a chance for other players on the roster to show what they are capable of in an expanded role. For Green Bay this season, many of those opportunities have gone to younger players.

- ▶ Six Green Bay rookies have started a game in 2010, which is tied with New England for the most in the league. The last time the Packers had that many rookies start at least one game in a season came in 2007 (also six).
- ▶ S Morgan Burnett, a third-round pick out of Georgia Tech, became only the second Packers rookie safety to start on opening day since 1988. He opened the first four games, posting 15 tackles and an interception, before sustaining a season-ending knee injury in Week 4.
- ▶ Burnett was joined in the starting lineup in Week 1 by nickel CB Sam Shields, a non-drafted rookie out of Miami. It was the first time since the 1970 merger that the Packers started two rookie DBs on opening day. Shields has 10 tackles and a pass defended in four games played.
- ▶ T Bryan Bulaga, the team's first-round pick out of Iowa who worked at LT and LG all preseason, has started each of the past two games at RT in place of injured veteran Mark Tauscher.
- ▶ LB Frank Zombo, a non-drafted free agent from Central Michigan, has played in every game with two starts and ranks tied for third among all NFL rookies with two sacks. He leads all Green Bay rookies with 20 tackles (13 solo).
- ▶ TE Andrew Quarless started his first career game vs. Detroit in Week 4 and figures to factor more prominently in the offense with starting TE Jermichael Finley (knee) lost for the season. Quarless posted 51 yards receiving at Washington in Week 5 to become the first Packers rookie TE to register 50 yards receiving in a game since Bubba Franks in 2000.
- ▶ DE C.J. Wilson, a seventh-round selection from East Carolina, started for the first time in his career this past Sunday vs. Miami in place of an injured Ryan Pickett, and posted four tackles.

TRAMON'S TALENTS

CB Tramon Williams etched his name into the team's record books with a pair of big plays in Week 5 at Washington.

- ▶ With a 52-yard punt return in the second quarter and a 64-yard interception return in the fourth quarter, Williams became the first player in franchise history to post a 50-yard punt return and a 60-yard interception return in the same game.
- ▶ Showing just how rare the feat is, no player in team annals has ever posted both of those returns in the same season.
- ▶ Williams became just the third NFL player since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970 to accomplish the feat in a game, joining Dallas' Deion Sanders (Sept. 21, 1998) and the late Darrent Williams of the Denver Broncos (Nov. 13, 2005).
- ▶ Explosive plays are nothing new to the fourth-year CB who went undrafted out of Louisiana Tech in 2006. Williams recorded a 94-yard punt return for a score vs. Carolina on Nov. 18, 2007, as well as a 67-yard kickoff return vs. Chicago that season (Oct. 7). Last season he posted his career-long interception return with a 67-yarder vs. Chicago (Sept. 13).
- ▶ Williams is only the third NFL player whose career began since the 1970 merger to post a 90-yard punt return and interception and kickoff returns of 65 yards in a career, joining Adam Jones and Lemar Parrish.
- ▶ Williams leads the team this season with two interceptions, having posted a pick in each of the last two games. It is the fourth time in his career that he has registered an interception in back-to-back games, with the most recent instance coming in Weeks 12-13 last season.
- ▶ Williams posted a career-high 22 passes defended in 2009, and ranks second on the team this season with eight (Nick Collins, nine).

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

ON THE ROAD AGAIN

Green Bay finished 5-3 on the road in 2009, the third time in four seasons it had finished above .500 under Head Coach Mike McCarthy.

- ▶ Green Bay got off to a good start this year with a win at Philadelphia in the season opener. It was the fifth straight season under McCarthy that the Packers have won their first road game of the year.
- ▶ Since 2006, McCarthy's first season as the head coach in Green Bay, only 10 of 32 NFL teams have regular-season road records over .500.

288 AND COUNTING

Another packed house at Lambeau Field against the Dolphins in Week 6 brought the stadium's consecutive sellouts streak to 288 games (272 regular season, 16 playoffs).

- ▶ The 2009 home game against Minnesota saw the largest regular-season crowd in Lambeau Field history (71,213).
- ▶ The league's longest-tenured stadium, Lambeau Field is hosting its 54th season of football this year. A total of 565,666 fans made their way through the turnstiles in the eight home contests in 2009.
- ▶ Across American professional sports, only Boston's Fenway Park (1912) and Chicago's Wrigley Field (1914) have longer tenures.

THE LAMBEAU ADVANTAGE

The crown jewel of the National Football League, Lambeau Field has long been known as one of the tougher venues to play in, particularly during the harsh Wisconsin winter.

- ▶ Re-establishing home-field advantage after a 4-4 mark in 2008 was one of the goals of 2009, and with the Packers finishing 6-2 at home, they accomplished that goal.
- ▶ Head Coach Mike McCarthy stated consistently upon his arrival in Green Bay that one of the team's goals would be to reclaim the mystique of playing at Lambeau Field. Mission accomplished. The team is 20-9 at home since 2007 including playoffs, a marked improvement over the prior three seasons (10-14 combined).
- ▶ Since Ron Wolf and Mike Holmgren began the revitalization of the franchise in 1992, Green Bay owns the best home record in the NFL. A look at the top regular-season home W-L records since the '92 season:

Team	W-L record	Pct.
Green Bay	109-38-0	.741

Dallas	97-49-0	.664

IN THE FREE-AGENCY ERA

Talk of unrestricted free agency in the early '90s led many to forecast tough times for the small-town Green Bay Packers.

- ▶ However, Green Bay has remained among the most successful teams since the advent of free agency in 1993. The Packers have won 10 or more games 10 times since '93 and captured seven division crowns.
- ▶ A look at the most successful teams in the free-agency era:

ELITE COMPANY

With a win at Lambeau Field in Week 2 over Buffalo, Head Coach Mike McCarthy became just the second coach in team history to win four consecutive home openers.

- ▶ McCarthy joined the legendary Curly Lambeau as the only coach in franchise annals to win four or more consecutive home openers. Lambeau accomplished the feat three times (1923-27, 1929-32, 1938-41) in his 29-year coaching career in Green Bay.
- ▶ Green Bay is one of only six NFL teams and one of just two (Washington) in the NFC to win its home opener each year from 2007-10. The others are Baltimore, Denver, New England, and Pittsburgh.

TAKING HIS PLACE AMONG THE GAME'S BEST

Now firmly entrenched in his role as the face of the franchise, QB Aaron Rodgers has gone from solid first-year starter to one of the game's top young signal callers over the past two seasons.

- ▶ Rodgers ranked near the top of the NFL in most passing categories in 2009 and was honored as the NFC Offensive Player of the Month for October, the first such award of his career. He was the youngest of the six quarterbacks named to the Pro Bowl last season.
- ▶ In 2009, he engineered one of the NFL's most potent offenses, ranked No. 6 overall, and avoided costly mistakes, spearheading a team that had a league-low 16 giveaways (15 on offense).
- ▶ His 103.2 passer rating ranked fourth in the NFL. In addition, he was the game's top-ranked passer on third downs (133.5).
- ▶ The fourth-year pro threw for 4,434 yards, fourth most in the league. That total finished just shy of Lynn Dickey's franchise record (4,458, 1983) for passing yards in a single season.
- ▶ In addition to QB rating and passing yards, Rodgers ranked fourth in TD passes (30) and first in interception percentage (1.3) in 2009.
- ▶ And just for good measure, he ranked second among QBs with 316 rushing yards on 58 carries (5.4 avg.), and added five rushing TDs.
- ▶ Rodgers joined Steve Young (San Francisco, 1998) as the only quarterbacks in NFL history to throw for 4,000 yards and 30 TDs and rush for 300 yards and five TDs in the same season.
- ▶ The Elias Sports Bureau never intended for passer rating to measure the effectiveness of a signal caller in one game, but rather over the course of a group of games or an entire season.
- ▶ In 38 career starts, Rodgers has eclipsed the century mark in passer rating 20 times and recorded 11 games of 300-plus yards. He posted his 20th career 100-plus passer rating game in just his 36th career start, which ranks third among NFL QBs since 1970 behind only Kurt Warner (33) and Tony Romo (34).
- ▶ Rodgers has started 38 straight games, which is tied for No. 5 among active NFL quarterbacks.
- ▶ Through six games this season, Rodgers ranks tied for No. 4 in the league with 10 TD passes and No. 7 with 1,546 passing yards.
- ▶ Here is a look at where Rodgers ranks among NFL quarterbacks since he took over as the starter in 2008.

GOING DEEP

Green Bay has been one of the league's most dangerous teams in yards after the catch the past few seasons, and its consistent standing near the top of those rankings is due in large part to WR Greg Jennings.

- ▶ Jennings' 86-yard score against Miami this past Sunday marked a career long for both him and QB Aaron Rodgers.
- ▶ It was the fourth 80-yard reception of Jennings career, moving him into the No. 1 spot in the franchise record books ahead of teammate Donald Driver (3). Jennings and Buffalo WR Lee Evans are tied for the NFL lead in 80-yard catches among active NFL players.
- ▶ When it comes to scoring passes, Jennings has an eye-popping average during his career. Of his 32 career touchdown catches, 14 (43.8 percent) have been at least 40 yards in length. He has a staggering average of 34.4 yards per TD catch, which ranks No. 1 among current players with at least 20 career touchdown catches.

▶ Jennings continued his big-play ways with a 32-yard touchdown catch in the season opener at Philadelphia in Week 1, part of his team-leading 82-yard day on five receptions (16.4 avg.). He is tied for third in the NFL with 27 receptions of 25-plus yards since 2008.

▶ It was the second straight year that Jennings came up with a big scoring grab in the season opener. Last year vs. the division-rival Chicago Bears in Week 1, Jennings scored on a 50-yard TD with just over a minute remaining to give the Packers a 21-15 win.

▶ Week 1 has been good to Jennings over the past three seasons as he has posted 16 receptions for 279 yards (17.4 avg.), including two 50-yard receptions, and two touchdowns.

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

STILL GETTING THE JOB DONE

Last season, it seemed as though franchise records fell on a weekly basis for WR Donald Driver, now in his 12th season, and the veteran is off to another strong start in 2010.

- ▶ The franchise's all-time receptions leader with 675 in his career, Driver leads the team in catches this season with 28 receptions for 307 yards (11.0 avg.) and three TDs.
- ▶ Last season in Week 13 vs. Baltimore, Driver became the 10th player in franchise history to reach the 50-touchdown plateau. No other NFL franchise has 10 players with 50-plus TDs.
- ▶ Earlier, Driver topped the 50-catch plateau for an eighth straight season (2002-09), a new franchise record.
- ▶ Though he was the oldest player on the active roster at age 34, Driver showed no signs of slowing down in 2009 as he led the team in catches (70), ranked second in receiving yards (1,061) and first in touchdown catches (6).
- ▶ Driver also extended his own franchise record by recording a seventh overall season and sixth straight with 1,000 yards. He is one of only two players in the league (Reggie Wayne) to have a 1,000-yard season each of the past six years (2004-09).
- ▶ The most significant record still within Driver's grasp is career receiving yards. James Lofton ranks No. 1 with 9,656 yards. Driver is No. 2 with 9,357. Driver should surpass the mark sometime this season.
- ▶ Against Buffalo in Week 2, Driver scored on a 7-yard TD pass, the 51st receiving TD of his career. That moved him into sole possession of the No. 4 spot in team history, and he currently has 52 career TD grabs.
- ▶ His TD catch in Week 4 vs. Detroit was his 21st at Lambeau Field, moving him into sole possession of the No. 2 spot behind only Antonio Freeman (36). Driver already holds the Lambeau records for receptions (321) and receiving yards (4,443).
- ▶ Driver has been the model of consistency for the Packers, catching at least one pass in 133 consecutive games (139 including playoffs), also a franchise record. That streak ranks third among active NFL players behind only Pittsburgh's Hines Ward (183) and Atlanta's Tony Gonzalez (153).
- ▶ While his reputation is as a slot guy who will make the tough catch over the middle, Driver made his share of big plays in 2009. His five catches of 40-plus yards tied for ninth in the NFL.
- ▶ Along with TE Jermichael Finley at Chicago in Week 3, Driver was part of the first Packers tandem since Nov. 21, 2004, to each record nine receptions in a game. In the 16-13 win at Houston nearly six years ago, Driver posted 10 catches and Javon Walker hauled in nine. The nine receptions were the most for Driver since he caught 10 at Detroit on Nov. 22, 2007.

PROTECTION THE KEY

Green Bay's offensive line didn't allow a single sack of QB Aaron Rodgers in Week 3 at Chicago, the second straight game that the sixth-year QB was not sacked.

- ▶ Prior to Rodgers being sacked in the second quarter vs. Detroit in Week 4, the offensive line had not allowed a sack in 11 straight quarters, the longest streak for the team since 2007.
- ▶ Over the past nine regular-season games, Rodgers has been sacked either once or not at all in four of those contests.
- ▶ In his two-plus years as the starting quarterback, there have been 13 games where the line has given up either one sack or no sacks of Rodgers. The Packers have a 10-3 mark in those contests.
- ▶ The effect that protection has is evident in Rodgers' numbers in those games, as he has completed 291-of-427 passes (68.1 percent) for 3,462 yards and 26 TDs with just five INTs for a 108.1 passer rating.

- ▶ The Packers have had their struggles the past two weeks, allowing a total of nine sacks against Washington and Miami after giving up only five sacks in the first four contests.
- ▶ When Rodgers has been sacked four or more times in a game during his career, the Packers are 4-9.
- ▶ Injuries and performance issues affected the offensive line in the first half of 2009, as Rodgers was sacked 41 times over the first nine games. Once the line regained some continuity down the stretch, it allowed just 10 sacks of Rodgers over the final seven games, a pace that would have put the Packers in the top five in terms of sacks allowed if kept up over a 16-game season.

SPREAD IT AROUND

With back-to-back 1,200-yard rusher Ryan Grant lost for the season after sustaining an ankle injury in Week 1 at Philadelphia, the Packers have turned to a couple of backs to carry the load.

- ▶ Brandon Jackson, who excelled in his role as a third-down back in 2009, posted a career-high 115 yards on 10 carries (11.5 avg.) at Washington in Week 5, highlighted by a career-long 71-yard run on his first carry of the game.
- ▶ Jackson leads the team with 305 yards on 67 carries this season (4.6 avg.), and yards from scrimmage with 409.
- ▶ The Packers rushed for 157 yards as a team at Washington in Week 5 on just 17 carries (9.2 avg.). It was the first time in team history that the Packers rushed for 150 yards in a regular-season game on fewer than 20 carries.
- ▶ The Packers' rushing average of 9.2 yards per carry against the Redskins was the best single-game performance (min. 15 attempts) in a regular-season game in team history.
- ▶ John Kuhn, who worked primarily at fullback during his first three seasons in Green Bay, has been given more opportunities to carry the ball at RB. Against Detroit in Week 4, Kuhn posted 34 of his career-high 39 rushing yards on the final series, as the Packers ran out the final 6:32 in the 28-26 win.
- ▶ Grant, Jackson, Kuhn and QB Aaron Rodgers have all posted runs of 17 yards or more this season. Each of the backs registered a 12-yard run in the season opener at Philadelphia, the first time since Dec. 19, 2005, that the Packers had three RBs post an explosive gain. Samkon Gado, Tony Fisher and Noah Herron each rushed for a 12-yard gain at Baltimore in 2005.
- ▶ Green Bay's 18 runs of 10-plus yards rank tied for No. 11 in the NFL. Last season the Packers ranked No. 23 in the league with 42 runs of 10 yards or more.

COACH LOCATIONS

- ▶ Sideline: Edgar Bennett (running backs), James Campen (offensive line), Tom Clements (quarterbacks), Mike Eayrs (research and development), Chad Morton (special teams asst.), Kevin Greene (outside linebackers), Ben McAdoo (tight ends), Winston Moss (inside linebackers/asst. head coach), Darren Perry (secondary - safeties), Jimmy Robinson (wide receivers), Shawn Slocum (special teams coordinator) and Mike Trgovac (defensive line).

DEFENSE GETTING THE JOB DONE

After finishing No. 2 in the league's final overall defensive rankings and No. 7 in points allowed in 2009, the unit is off to another strong start this season under second-year defensive coordinator Dom Capers.

- ▶ The Packers rank No. 10 in the league in points given up, allowing the opposition an average of 18.7 points per game, a similar number to last season's average of 18.6 per contest. Green Bay's defense currently ranks No. 15 in the NFL in overall defense, allowing an average of 327.8 yards per game through the first six games.
- ▶ That includes a No. 17 ranking in the league against the pass, with opponents averaging 215.5 yards through the air in the first six contests. Opposing quarterbacks have a passer rating of 76.0 against Green Bay, and the Packers rank tied for No. 2 in the NFL with 21 sacks.
- ▶ After leading the NFL in run defense for the first time in 2009 as they allowed a franchise-record 83.3 yards per game, the Packers haven't been as stingy against the run thus far this season, ranking No. 21 in the league (112.3 yards per game).
- ▶ A decent chunk of that yardage has come from opposing quarterbacks, with signal-callers accounting for 224 yards on 27 carries (8.3 avg.). Outside of the quarterback, opposing teams have run for 450 yards on 124 carries (3.6 avg.).
- ▶ Green Bay's defense hasn't allowed a running back to rush for 100 yards for 19 straight games, the longest current streak in the NFL. Rams RB Steven Jackson was the last to do it, posting 117 yards on 27 carries last season in Week 3 at St. Louis.
- ▶ That streak is the second longest in in team history since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger, trailing only a 24-game game stretch from Sept. 20, 1970-Nov. 22, 1971.
- ▶ Under Capers, the Packers thrived in their new 3-4 scheme in 2009. The team finished the season ranked No. 1 against the run and No. 5 against the pass.
- ▶ The previous top ranking in franchise history in run defense came in 1972, when the team finished No. 2.
- ▶ Green Bay allowed an average of 284.4 total yards per game in '09, second behind the N.Y. Jets (252.3) and ahead of No. 3 Baltimore (300.5).
- ▶ In the first two years of the Mike McCarthy tenure, Green Bay's defense was close to being a top-10 unit, finishing at No. 12 in 2006 and No. 11 in 2007. In 2008, it slipped to No. 20 before making the jump up to No. 2 last year.
- ▶ A look at some of Green Bay's numbers against the run since Dom Capers took over as defensive coordinator in 2009:

AS GOOD AS HE'S EVER BEEN

In 2009, CB Charles Woodson enjoyed the finest season of his career, his first year in the 3-4 scheme, and has continued his impactful ways this season.

- ▶ Woodson achieved the highest individual honor bestowed upon a defensive player, taking home The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year award last season. He also was named an AP first-team All-Pro.
- ▶ His 48-yard interception return for a touchdown in the third quarter against Detroit this season in Week 4 was his eighth career with the Packers, which set a franchise record. He had been tied with Hall of Fame CB Herb Adderley (seven, 1961-69) for the team mark.
- ▶ It was also Woodson's ninth defensive TD (eight INTs, one fumble return) in a Green Bay uniform, which further extended his franchise record.

- ▶ The touchdown gave Woodson 10 interception returns for touchdowns in his career (two with Oakland), which moved him up in the NFL record books as he became just the third player in league history to post 10 career interception returns for touchdowns. He now trails only Rod Woodson (12) and Darren Sharper (11).
- ▶ Woodson has now returned an INT for a touchdown in five straight seasons, all five of his years in Green Bay (2006-10), to become the first player in NFL history to return an INT for a touchdown in five consecutive seasons.
- ▶ The score in Week 4 was also the third straight year that Woodson has returned an INT for a TD against Detroit. He is the first player in NFL history to return an interception for a TD in three consecutive seasons against the same team.

- ▶ In 2009, Woodson became the fourth player in NFL history since sacks became an official statistic to record at least nine interceptions and two sacks in a single season. Woodson also led the Packers with four forced fumbles.
- ▶ Woodson is off to another fast start in the tackles category this season as he ranks No. 2 on the team with 44 stops (35 solo). Last season he recorded a career-high 81 tackles (63 solo).
- ▶ His four forced fumbles tied for second among NFL defensive backs in 2009, and he is tied for second in the NFL this season among defensive backs with two forced fumbles.
- ▶ There's no doubt Woodson's career has undergone a revitalization since coming to Green Bay. He now has 46 career interceptions, which is tied for third among active NFL players. Of his interceptions, 29 have come in 68 games with Green Bay. In 106 games with the Raiders, he had 17.
- ▶ No NFL defensive player has been more productive than Woodson when it comes to picking the ball off since 2008:

Player	Interceptions
1. Charles Woodson, GB	17
2. Asante Samuel, PHI	15
3. Nick Collins, GB	13

WEEK 6 GAME REVIEW - DOLPHINS 23, PACKERS 20 (OT)

ANOTHER OVERTIME, ANOTHER TOUGH LOSS

The wonder for the last few weeks has been how many more injuries the Green Bay Packers can absorb. But now the more pertinent question is how many more down-to-the-wire defeats can one team take?

- ▶ Sunday's 23-20 overtime loss to the Miami Dolphins at Lambeau Field was the Packers' third loss in their last four games, all on last-play field goals and the last two in overtime. The defeat drops the Packers to 3-3, not at all where they envisioned sitting after a 2-0 start.
- ▶ "I wouldn't say it's deflating, but I think it's one of many reality checks that we need to tighten up, obviously," linebacker Brad Jones said. "We can't have any more losses. We can't lose to teams that we should beat. Miami is a good team, but we know what type of team we have, and even with all the injuries we do have, we still know what type of team we are, and we shouldn't have losses like that."
- ▶ That's been the refrain after each of the three close defeats, all by three points – at Chicago on a Monday night, at Washington in overtime last week, and then at home against Miami following an intense and physically and emotionally draining fourth quarter and overtime session on Sunday.
- ▶ The Packers needed to overcome a huge, momentum-turning call by the officials to give themselves a chance to win this one.
- ▶ Midway through the fourth quarter with the game tied at 13, the Dolphins punted on fourth-and-2 from the Green Bay 43-yard line. But following a commercial break, the officials determined that Packers linebacker Robert Francois was lined up directly over the center and right on the line of scrimmage, penalizing the Packers 5 yards due to a new rule put in place this year for the safety of long snappers.
- ▶ The Packers contended that Francois was lined up more than a yard off the line of scrimmage, and was therefore legal, but the argument went nowhere. The Dolphins were given the ball back following the penalty and had a first down at the Green Bay 38.
- ▶ Four plays later, Miami quarterback Chad Henne caught the Packers in a blitz while rolling to his right and executed a perfect throwback screen to tight end Anthony Fasano, who was wide open. Fasano waltzed into the end zone untouched for a 22-yard TD and a 20-13 Miami lead with 5:10 left in the fourth.
- ▶ "That's one of those mysterious things you just have to play through," said defensive end Cullen Jenkins, one of many players in the locker room afterward who was careful with his words so as not to draw a fine from the league. "You have to overcome it."
- ▶ The Packers nearly did, driving 69 yards in 12 plays to get the tying touchdown with just 13 seconds left in regulation. The drive included two receptions for 37 yards by Jordy Nelson and a 20-yard catch by Greg Jennings to convert a fourth-and-7 at the 2-minute warning and make it first-and-goal on the 9.
- ▶ After quarterback Aaron Rodgers scrambled for 8 yards down to the 1, running back John Kuhn was then stuffed on both second and third down, setting up fourth-and-goal. After both teams called timeouts, Rodgers came out in shotgun but with an eye on the Miami defensive front, because the Dolphins had left the center uncovered on the previous play, increasing the odds of a successful quarterback sneak.
- ▶ Miami made an adjustment, but Rodgers saw the opening he needed anyway and proceeded to very cleverly fake out the Dolphins defense, stepping forward as though he was calling an audible. Only he put his hands under center, took the snap and walked in over left guard standing up to tie the game.
- ▶ "They lined up with a guy over the center, but the next guy out was outside the tackle on the left side," Rodgers said. "So I told (the offensive linemen) I was going to act like I was changing something and then just went up there and quick snapped it and got it in there."
- ▶ The Dolphins won the overtime coin flip, went three-and-out, and the Packers did the same. Green Bay punter Tim Masthay then hit a poor 37-yard punt that Davone Bess fair-caught at the Miami 48, and the Dolphins took advantage of the field position with a seven-play drive that ended with Dan Carpenter's game-winning 44-yard field goal six minutes into OT.

- ▶ But afterward the Packers weren't putting this loss on their defense, which has been devastated by injuries and lost outside linebacker Brady Poppinga to a knee injury in the first half. That left a unit already missing Pro Bowler Clay Matthews with just Jones, rookie Frank Zombo and former practice-squadder Francois to play outside linebacker the rest of the game. Meanwhile, the banged-up defensive line, missing Ryan Pickett and Mike Neal, was rotating rookie C.J. Wilson and second-year man Jarius Wynn in and out as two of the four viable linemen.
- ▶ Still, the cobbled-together group held the Dolphins to just 20 points in regulation despite Miami's 150 yards rushing and receiver Brandon Marshall's 10-catch, 127-yard day. The defense struggled to pressure Henne (23-of-39, 231 yards, 2 TD, 1 INT, 82.3 rating) but got an interception from Tramon Williams that preceded an 86-yard TD pass from Rodgers to Jennings (six catches, 133 yards) in the first quarter, and a key fourth-down stop at the Green Bay 27-yard line late in the third quarter.

▶ "I thought they were hanging in there, bend do not break, keep them out of the end zone," Head Coach Mike McCarthy said. "I thought our defense played well enough for us to win that game based on the position they were in."

▶ But the offense didn't. A second straight abysmal day on third downs (3-for-13, after going 2-for-13 last week at Washington) and five sacks of Rodgers (18-of-33, 313 yards, 1 TD, 1 INT, 84.5 rating) led to a nearly 10-minute disadvantage in time of possession (37:56 to 28:03).

▶ The offense came up empty on two consecutive drives that crossed midfield in the second quarter and then couldn't generate a single first down with the game tied at 13 in the fourth quarter or on its overtime possession.

▶ "All of it, all of it," Jennings said when asked what was wrong. "He (Rodgers) is getting hit too much, we're not putting ourselves in position to be successful on third down, which means we're not doing the things we need to do on first and second down. It's collective. There's no one position, none of that. It's everybody."

- ▶ Added Rodgers: "We have to figure something out offensively and help our defense out a little bit. I think they've played well enough to win the last two weeks and we just haven't gotten the job done. When your defense is holding them to 16 last week and 23 this week, we feel like we should win those games."
- ▶ But the Packers haven't, and instead of pulling into a first-place tie in the NFC North on Sunday with the Chicago Bears, who also lost at home, they're .500 and still trying to catch a break.
- ▶ As many players noted after the game, there are still 10 games left in this long season, and everyone remembers how the Packers were 4-4 at the midway point last year before putting things together to go 7-1 down the stretch and make the playoffs.
- ▶ But as Rodgers said, this was supposed to be the game the Packers regained some momentum heading into a week when cornerback Al Harris and safety Atari Bigby are eligible to come off the physically-unable-to-perform list and could provide some reinforcements for the depleted defense.
- ▶ "We're getting hopefully two studs back this week on defense, three if you count Clay," Rodgers said. "We need those guys back. We need to be at full force."
- ▶ But there's no telling what a win or two these last couple of weeks without them may have meant for the season going forward. The Packers can only hope they won't end up looking back and lamenting the missed opportunities.
- ▶ "We have a little time, but time is of the essence," Jennings said. "Every win is important. When it comes down to it end of the year, these are the type of games -- this week, last week, Chicago -- those are the types of games you look back and say, 'Man, if we could have got that one, where would we have possibly, potentially been?'"

A LOOK AT THE SCHEDULE

The Green Bay Packers' 90th NFL regular-season schedule – headlined by six nationally televised games – was released in late April.

- ▶ Green Bay opened the 2010 slate on the road at Philadelphia before kicking off the home schedule with the Buffalo Bills in Week 2.
- ▶ Its first prime-time appearance – against the rival Bears in Chicago on Monday Night Football – came in Week 3. The NFL's oldest rivalry was on display in prime time for a fifth straight season, with this first meeting of the year marking game No. 180 in the all-time series.
- ▶ 2010 marks the 18th consecutive season the Packers have appeared on Monday Night Football, the NFC's longest streak.
- ▶ Three games are slated for Sunday night on NBC, including home games this week against the Minnesota Vikings and a Week 9 contest vs. the Dallas Cowboys. In Week 15, the Packers are scheduled to take on the Patriots on Sunday night in Foxborough, though the game is subject to the NFL's flex scheduling.
- ▶ The Packers will get their first look at the new stadium in New Jersey in Week 8 against the Jets, where they may experience some cool fall temperatures. While games at Lambeau Field later in the season always provide a home-field advantage for the Packers, the 2010 schedule is nearly void of cold-weather road games. After the Jets, three consecutive road contests will be played in domes (Minnesota, Atlanta, Detroit).
- ▶ That's good news for a Green Bay offense that seems to thrive in domes. Including playoffs, the Packers played in a dome five times last season, exceeding 400 total net yards in four of those games.
- ▶ A number of games on the Packers' 2010 schedule – namely those on national TV – are beginning to have a familiar feel. In addition to taking on the Bears for a fifth consecutive year in prime time, Green Bay will take on Minnesota in prime time for a third straight season. The Packers and Cowboys will meet on national TV for the fourth straight season.
- ▶ The schedule concludes with two home games for the first time since 2005. One of the NFL's best teams in regular-season games played in December and January, Green Bay may need to call upon that previous success for what could prove to be two very important contests surrounding the Christmas and New Year's holidays. Games against the Giants (Week 16) and Bears (Week 17) could determine not only the NFC North Division crown but conference playoff seeding.

2010 SCHEDULE NUGGETS

Green Bay's bye week comes in Week 10, the latest possible week for NFL teams. It marks the latest time in which the Packers have had a bye in franchise history, besting the Week 9 bye in 2004. The Packers will play nine games before the bye and seven after the open date.

- ▶ Three of four games before the bye come at Lambeau Field, while four of five games after the bye are road contests.
- ▶ Immediately following the bye comes an important division game against Minnesota, the first of three straight road games played in domes. Under McCarthy, the team has won three of four games after the bye week and 10 of its last 14 after the bye dating back further.
- ▶ Green Bay has always been a successful team after the bye and 2009 was no different, as the team compiled a 9-3 (.750) mark after the bye week. Since 2000, the team is 61-36 (.629) overall after the bye.
- ▶ Fifteen games are slated for Sunday, the most since 1993 (also 15).
- ▶ Seven of the final eight games are against NFC opponents.
- ▶ The Packers have six games on the schedule against 2009 playoff teams, including Week 1 at Philadelphia. Beginning this week vs. Minnesota, Green Bay has a stretch of four straight games against play-off teams from a year ago. The team will travel east to take on the Jets in Week 8 and host the Cowboys in Week 9 before the bye. The stretch concludes in Minnesota in Week 11.
- ▶ The NFL's oldest rivalry will see a first in 2010. For the first time in series history, Green Bay will host Chicago in the regular-season finale, set to be game No. 181 between the Packers and Bears.

STREAKS & MILESTONES

2 MASON CROSBY

- ▶ In 2009, had 50-plus receptions for the eighth time, a new franchise record. Lofton and Sharpe each had seven seasons with 50-plus catches.
- ▶ Is the all-time leading receiver at Lambeau Field, with 4,443 career receiving yards at the stadium.
- ▶ Also is Lambeau Field's all-time leader in receptions with 321.
- ▶ With a TD catch vs. Detroit in Week 4, moved into sole possession of No. 2 spot with 21 TD catches at Lambeau Field. Antonio Freeman (36) ranks first in the stadium's history
- ▶ Has 22 career 100-yard receiving games, No. 4 in team history. Needs two more games to equal No. 3 Don Hutson (24) on the all-time list.

- ▶ With 52 career TD receptions, joins Hutson (99), Sharpe (65), Freeman (57) and Max McGee (50) as the only Packers with 50 career TD catches.
- ▶ Ranks fourth all-time in yards from scrimmage with 9,574. Driver needs 139 yards to move past No. 3 Jim Taylor (9,712).

50 A.J. HAWK

- ▶ Has played in all 70 games in his career, including 67 starts, and has posted 22 double-digit tackle games.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Michael Vick took off his baseball cap and dusted off that old Superman cape. Filling in for an injured Kevin Kolb, Vick was dynamic. He couldn't lead the Philadelphia Eagles to a win against Green Bay, but his dazzling performance may create a quarterback controversy just one game into the post-Donovan McNabb era.

Aaron Rodgers threw a pair of touchdown passes, Mason Crosby kicked a team-record 56-yard field goal and the Packers beat Philadelphia 27-20 on Sunday.

The score was almost an afterthought because Kolb struggled and Vick was so impressive in his first extended action during meaningful minutes in nearly four years. With Kolb sidelined by a concussion, Vick threw for 175 yards, ran for 103 and resembled the guy who went to three Pro Bowls in six seasons with Atlanta.

Still, Andy Reid said it's Kolb's job when he's healthy.

Vick's last NFL start came on Dec. 31, 2006, in Philadelphia. He missed the next two seasons while serving an 18-month sentence in federal prison for his role in a dogfighting operation. Vick signed a two-year contract with the Eagles last summer, and saw limited action mostly in a variation of the wildcat formation.

He finally got his chance, and made the most of it.

The Packers (1-0) were a popular preseason pick to reach the Super Bowl, and they began their quest for a 13th NFL title with a tough win in a hostile environment.

After a slow start, the Packers got going late in the second quarter and scored on three straight possessions.

Ryan Grant ran 13, 8 and 18 yards to spark an 86-yard drive. Greg Jennings kept it going with a leaping, one-handed catch for a 16-yard gain on third-and-9. Rodgers then tossed a 6-yard TD pass to Donald Driver to give the Packers a 10-3 lead.

Kolb was injured in the second quarter when he was tackled from behind by Clay Matthews. The team originally said he had a jaw injury and he returned for a series, completing two short passes.

Middle linebacker Stewart Bradley also came back in after he staggered off the field following a collision with teammate Ernie Sims before he sat out the second half.

GREEN BAY 34, BUFFALO 7

Lambeau Field, Sunday, Sept. 19, 2010. Attendance: 70,741. Time: 2:52. Weather: 58° F, Humidity: 51 percent, Wind: Variable 4 mph. GAME 2

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Aaron Rodgers already shouldered plenty of pressure with the Green Bay Packers before losing starting running back Ryan Grant to a season-ending ankle injury last week.

Rodgers is even picking up the slack in the running game, too. Rodgers ran for a touchdown and threw for two more scores and didn't commit a turnover in Green Bay's 34-7 win over the Buffalo Bills on Sunday.

While Rodgers scrambled for 20 of Green Bay's 91 yards rushing, the rest of the running game was quiet. Starter Brandon Jackson gained 29 yards on 11 carries with one score and fullback John Kuhn added 36 yards on nine attempts.

The quarterback certainly has a lot more options by air and the Packers (2-0) appear ready to rely on that until they can figure out how to mount a significant attack again without Grant, their back-to-back 1,200-yard runner.

Jermichael Finley and Donald Driver caught four passes each, while Greg Jennings and James Jones added three more receptions apiece. Buffalo (0-2) had 186 total yards, 20 more than in last week's loss to the Dolphins.

Packers linebacker Clay Matthews sacked Trent Edwards three times to give him six this season and Green Bay forced two interceptions. Edwards finished 11 of 18 for 102 yards for a passer rating that was a 37, more than two points lower than if all 18 of his passes fell incomplete.

Marshawn Lynch and Fred Jackson didn't run the ball well. Rookie C.J. Spiller was sharp on special teams, but not a factor on offense. The Bills' top playmaking receiver—Lee Evans—didn't catch a pass and was only targeted one time, when he drew a pass interference call for an offense that just kept spluttering.

Buffalo didn't gain a yard in the first quarter and only looked in rhythm momentarily when Jackson scored on a 3-yard run to cap an 80-yard drive early in the second quarter to cut Green Bay's lead to 13-7.

In the second half, Edwards was picked off by Brandon Chillar in Bills' territory after receiver Steve Johnson couldn't haul in the ball. Rodgers then threw a touchdown pass to Driver on third-and-goal from the 7 and scored again late in the third quarter with a 9-yard scramble that had his teammates laughing when he had a hard time leaping into the stands to celebrate with fans.

Rodgers capped his day by hitting Jones with a 30-yard TD pass to make it 34-7.

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears were going nowhere and hearing it from the crowd. Good thing the Green Bay Packers were intent on giving this one away.

This one certainly wasn't pretty, even if the Bears remained unbeaten and established themselves as NFC contenders. Robbie Gould kicked a 19-yard field goal with 4 seconds left after Brian Urlacher forced a fumble in the closing minutes, and Chicago took advantage of a Green Bay team-record 18 penalties to beat the Packers 20-17 on Monday night.

Packers receiver James Jones lost a fumble on a hit by Urlacher before Green Bay's Morgan Burnett was called for pass interference on Earl Bennett, setting up the winning kick.

Jay Cutler threw for 221 yards for the Bears, (3-0), who kept insisting they were contenders through a sloppy preseason and less-than-inspiring opening win over Detroit. Since then, they turned heads with a win at Dallas last week and opened some more eyes against Green Bay—with lots of help from the Packers.

Urlacher jarred the ball out of Jones' hands after he caught a pass from Aaron Rodgers near midfield. Tim Jennings recovered, giving Chicago the ball on the Packers 46 with 2:18 remaining.

Soon after, another penalty cost the Packers (2-1) in a big way. On second down at the 33, Cutler tried to hit Bennett deep along the right sideline and Burnett basically hammered him, wiping out an interception by Nick Collins and putting the ball at the 9. Three plays later, Chicago walked away with a wild win and the only undefeated record in the NFC.

Devin Hester delivered his first touchdown return in three years when he ran back a punt 62 yards in the fourth quarter, giving the Bears a short-lived 14-10 lead.

Rodgers threw for 316 yards and a touchdown and scored on a 3-yard run that gave the Packers 17-14 lead in the fourth quarter. Jermichael Finley had nine catches for 115 yards, but the sloppiness simply caught up with the Packers in the end.

Cutler completed 16 of 27 passes with a touchdown and an interception. Johnny Knox had four catches for 94 yards. Chicago held its longtime rival to 63 yards rushing, but the Bears had only 77, turning it into an air game for much of the night.

Hester had just put the Bears ahead in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter when the Packers responded with a 72-yard touchdown drive. A roughing-the-passer penalty on Henry Melton gave them a first down at the 3. Rodgers, who cramped up a few plays earlier, rolled to his right and lunged into the end zone, making it 17-14.

Then the Packers basically gave it away. Frank Zombo got called for a helmet-on-helmet hit against Cutler on the next drive that erased an interception by Nick Barnett. On second down, Collins got called for a late hit on Matt Forte after a 15-yard reception, putting the ball on the Packers 29.

Gould made a 25-yard field goal to tie it at 17 with 3:59 left.

So when the offense went scoreless in the second half and the Packers barely held on for a 28-26 victory over Detroit on Sunday, Rodgers saw his team not playing to its main strength.

Rodgers chose his words deliberately but diplomatically, making his point without directly challenging his coaches.

It was another sign that the Packers remain unsatisfied with what they've shown the rest of the NFL so far this season. Despite their 3-1 start, they're a team with Super Bowl aspirations that has yet to prove it can play like one of the league's elite for a full game.

Rodgers threw for 161 yards and three touchdowns. But he also threw a pair of interceptions for the Packers, who were coming off a sloppy performance in a loss at Chicago on Monday night.

If Sunday's game didn't feel like a satisfying win for Green Bay, it also didn't feel like anything approaching a moral victory for Detroit (0-4). It was the franchise's 20th straight loss to the Packers in Wisconsin, a streak that began in 1992 and includes a playoff loss.

The Lions showed that they're more dangerous than they have been in the recent past, but it still wasn't enough to win.

The Packers appeared ready to rout the Lions when Charles Woodson returned an interception 48 yards for a touchdown and a 28-14 lead early in the third quarter.

But the Packers' offense went silent in the second half while the Lions rallied for four straight Jason Hanson field goals to cut the lead to two points. Had the Lions been able to finish any of those drives with a touchdown instead of a field goal, they might be celebrating a victory.

A last drive by the Packers ran out the final 6:32 of the clock as Green Bay rediscovered its running game at the best possible moment.

Detroit again was without injured quarterback Matthew Stafford, but backup Shaun Hill looked poised under center. He threw for 331 yards and two touchdowns to Calvin Johnson, helping to make the game close despite the Lions committing 13 penalties.

WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 13 (OT)

FedExField, Sunday, Oct. 10, 2010. Attendance: 87,760. Time: 3:35. Weather: 72° F, Humidity: 46 percent. Wind: calm. GAME 5

LANDOVER, Md. (AP)—There are plenty of places to point when trying to figure out why the Washington Redskins are 3-2.

There's stability provided by new quarterback Donovan McNabb. There's the turnover-producing and suddenly points-stringy defense, led by safety LaRon Landry. There's also been help from injuries to opponents' key players.

In the home locker room after Washington's 16-13 overtime victory over the Green Bay Packers on Sunday, the Redskins uniformly pointed to one significant explanation for their success so far in 2010: coach Mike Shanahan.

For the fourth time in five weeks, Washington's game came down to the final play. On Sunday, it was Graham Gano's 33-yard field goal 6:54 into the extra period that made the difference, set up by Landry's diving interception of Aaron Rodgers at Green Bay's 39-yard line.

Rodgers sustained a concussion, the Packers said after the game, and it appeared to happen on that last play for their offense. The Redskins trailed 13-3 entering the fourth quarter. They were outgained 209 yards to 24 in the first quarter. Seven of their first eight possessions ended in punts. Even once they made it 13-all on Gano's 45-yard kick with 1:07 left in regulation, the Redskins had to weather a Packers drive that ended with Mason Crosby hitting the left upright from 53 yards with 1 second left.

Under Shanahan's predecessor as head coach—Jim Zorn—and with McNabb's predecessor at starting quarterback—Jason Campbell—the Redskins went 4-12 last season.

Two of Washington's games this season have gone to overtime—including a 30-27 loss to Houston in Week 2—and two ended on passes thrown into the end zone by the opponent on the last play of regulation—including a 17-12 victory at Philadelphia last weekend.

The Packers (3-2), meanwhile, are dealing with a long list of injuries. By game's end, linebacker Clay Matthews was on the sideline, wearing a green Packers wool cap instead of a helmet, ice strapped to his injured left hamstring. Tight end Jeremiah Finley was leaning on a pair of metal crutches, keeping weight off his hurt knee.

Green Bay also had tight end Donald Lee (shoulder), defensive lineman Ryan Pickett (ankle), and safety Derrick Martin (knee) leave. The Packers stumbled on one big sequence early: Already ahead 7-0 early in the second quarter, they had second-and-goal at Washington's 1 and came away with nothing. Rodgers' fourth-down pass to tight end Andrew Quarless was broken up in the end zone.

Later, Washington's defense—a 3-4 scheme that ranks last in the NFL in yards allowed—was stuffing the Packers repeatedly. Green Bay's last seven possessions resulted in four punts, two missed field goals and Rodgers' interception.

MIAMI 23, GREEN BAY 20 (OT)

Lambeau Field, Sunday, Oct. 17, 2010. Attendance: 70,815. Time: 3:14. Weather: 57° F. Humidity: 45 percent. Wind: W 11 mph. GAME 6

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Miami Dolphins have found a key to being effective: pound the ball, keep every game close and play as far away from Sun Life Stadium as possible.

There's no South Beach-like distractions in Green Bay, and the blue collar style the Dolphins play fits this colder climate than Florida's tropical temperatures.

With wins in Minnesota and Buffalo, Miami rules the Rust Belt.

The Dolphins are 3-0 on the road this season, and 0-2 at home. Miami needed to grind out another game using three field goals—including the 44-yard game winner—by Dan Carpenter and a perfect TD screen by developing quarterback Chad Henne to topple what had been considered one of the NFL's elite teams before injuries set in.

Green Bay (3-3) is a mess now after consecutive overtime losses.

The Packers can take solace in being just a game back in the NFC North chase despite injuries to eight starters, including five on defense. There's also the Lambeau Field showdown looming with Brett Favre and the Minnesota Vikings on Sunday night.

Henne's nifty 22-yard TD pass to Anthony Fasano gave Miami a 20-13 lead with 5:20 left, and Fasano ran untouched to the end zone with Long bowling over the last would-be tackler as Henne laid flat on his back.

Rodgers, who was sacked five times including three by Cameron Wake, tied it with a 1-yard TD on fourth-and-goal with 13 seconds to go, but the Dolphins had one more answer in overtime.

After the teams' exchanged punts with the Dolphins getting the better end of that deal and taking over at their own 48, Miami went to Ricky Williams and Ronnie Brown, who pounded the ball down to the Packers 26 before Carpenter hit the game winner on third down.

With so many injuries, Green Bay failed to get much pressure on Henne. Linebacker Clay Matthews, who has 8 1/2 sacks, was out with a left hamstring injury and Nick Barnett (wrist) went on the injured reserve on Friday.

Henne, with all the time he needed, finished 23 of 39 for 231 yards with two touchdowns and one interception. Top receiver Brandon Marshall made 10 catches for 127 yards and just missed a 25-yard TD grab late in the first half. He said the win was all the more impressive because he believed the Dolphins left 21 points on the field.
