WEEK 11

GREEN BAY (6-3) AT MINNESOTA (3-6)
Sunday, Nov. 21 • Mall of America Field • Noon CST

PACKERS AND VIKINGS SET TO SQUARE OFF FOR 100TH TIME

Coming off their bye, the Packers go on the road to face the division-rival Minnesota Vikings at noon on Sunday in the 100th overall meeting between the teams.

- ▶ Green Bay enters Sunday's game on a three-game winning streak following victories over Minnesota, the N.Y. Jets and Dallas before the bye. It was the first time since 2004 that the Packers won three straight contests heading into their bye.
- ▶ The Packers last played the Vikings in the game immediately following Green Bay's bye in 2005, which was the third straight year that the teams faced each other following the Packers' week off.
- ▶ In games immediately following their bye week, the Packers have won 10 of their last 14, and under Head Coach Mike McCarthy, the team is 3-1. Since 2000, the Packers over the balance of their season after the bye are a combined 62-36 (.633), including a 9-3 mark in 2009.
- ▶ The Packers come out of the bye with back-to-back games on the road at Minnesota and Atlanta. It is the third time in four seasons that Green Bay has had consecutive road games (2007, 2008) after the week off.
- ▶ Of Green Bay's first five games following the bye, four of them will be away from Lambeau Field. Since the NFL introduced a bye week to the schedule in 1990, the Packers have never played four road games in its first five contests after the bye, and they are one of only two teams (St. Louis) in the NFL to do so this season.
- ▶ The last time the Packers played four road games in a five-week stretch was in 2007 (Weeks 12, 13, 15, 16).
- ▶ The Packers have a 19-8 (.704) mark against NFC North opponents under McCarthy, which ranks first among NFC North teams over that span. Green Bay's divisional record since '06 is tied for third in the NFL, and the Packers have posted a 4-2 record or better in the division each season under McCarthy. Green Bay is 2-1 in divisional games this year.

WITH THE CALL

FOX Sports, now in its 17th season as an NFL network television partner, will broadcast the game to a regional audience.

- ▶ Play-by-play man Joe Buck and color analyst Troy Aikman will have the call from the broadcast booth with Pam Oliver reporting from the sidelines.
- ▶ Milwaukee's WTMJ (620 AM), airing Green Bay games since 1929, heads up the 53-station Packers Radio Network, with Wayne Larrivee (play-by-play) and two-time Packers Pro Bowler Larry McCarren (color) calling the action. The duo enters its 12th season of broadcasts together across the Packers Radio Network, which covers 43 markets in five states.
- ▶ Sports USA Radio will broadcast the game with Larry Kahn (play-by-play), Ross Tucker (analyst) and Troy West (sideline reporter).
- ▶ For out-of-town listeners, the broadcast is available to NFL Field Pass subscribers on www.packers.com as well as on Sirius Satellite Radio (channel 122 WTMJ feed) as part of the network's NFL Sunday Drive.
- ▶ DIRECTV subscribers can watch the game in HD on channel 709.

A COMPETITIVE SERIES

Few rivalries in sports have exhibited the parity of the Green Bay-Minnesota series since it began in 1961.

- ▶ Through 99 meetings, which includes one postseason game, the Packers hold a slight 50-48-1 advantage over the Vikings.
- ▶ Fans can bet on a back-and-forth contest when these two clubs meet, one that always seems to come down to the final possession. In fact, 14 of the past 16 regular-season games have been decided by seven points or less, the lone exceptions being the Packers' 34-0 blanking of the Vikings in 2007 at Lambeau Field and Minnesota's 38-26 victory in Green Bay last season.
- ▶ Not only do the games seem to always come down to the last possession, but more recently they have come down to a final kick. From 2004-2008, six out of the 10 contests were decided by a field goal at the end of the fourth quarter. Vikings K Ryan Longwell kicked two game-winning field goals – for the Packers – in the '04 meetings.
- ▶ The Packers snapped the Vikings' three-game winning streak in the series earlier this season with a 28-24 victory at Lambeau Field in Week 7. Prior to that, Green Bay had won each time against Minnesota in Head Coach Mike McCarthy's first five games vs. the Vikings.

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

TAKEAWAY POINTS KEY FOR PACKERS

After tying for the league lead in points off of takeaways last season, the Packers are once again sitting atop the NFL rankings in 2010.

- ▶ Green Bay leads the NFL with 80 points off of takeaways, 13 points ahead of No. 2 Detroit. The Packers are tied for No. 4 in the NFL with a plus-6 turnover ratio, and have a plus-7 mark in just the last two games.
- ▶ Of the Packers' 19 takeaways this season, 11 of them have been converted into TDs. That 57.9 TD percentage ranks No. 3 in the NFL behind only Buffalo (62.5) and Kansas City (58.3), and Green Bay's 11 TDs off of takeaways lead the NFL.
- ▶ Green Bay is tied with four other teams for the No. 2 spot in interceptions (14), and the Packers are tied with Tampa Bay and New England for the NFL lead in INTs for TDs (three).
- ▶ With LB Clay Matthews' INT for a TD in Week 9 vs. Dallas, the Packers have now posted at least three INTs for TDs in each of the last three seasons. That is the first time in franchise history that Green Bay has accomplished that feat. The Packers have posted at least three INTs for TDs in four of five seasons under Head Coach Mike McCarthy.
- ▶ Scoring points off of turnovers has become a trend for the Packers at Lambeau Field, as they have a current streak of 15 straight games at home with points scored that were set up by a takeaway. That home streak ranks first in the NFL.
- ▶ The Packers have had 10 different players post an interception this season, which is tied with Atlanta for No. 1 in the NFL, and that number is the most by the Packers in a season since 11 in 2002.
- ▶ Green Bay posted 30 INTs and 10 fumble recoveries in 2009, which it turned into 141 points. The 40 takeaways led the NFL, and the 141 points scored off those takeaways tied New Orleans for most in the NFL.
- ▶ The 30 interceptions led the league and was the team's highest single-season total since 1981, when it also had 30.
- ▶ Last season Green Bay surpassed its 2008 total of 124 points off takeaways, which led the NFL. It also eclipsed its '08 total in interceptions (22) and fumble recoveries (six) while at the same time protecting the ball at a better clip. Green Bay's 16 giveaways was the lowest total in the NFL in 2009.
- ▶ If the Packers don't commit a turnover, like they didn't against Dallas in Week 9 for the second straight week, they're almost guaranteed to win. They have now won 41 of 45 games playing turnover-free football, since a loss at Dallas, Nov. 18, 1996. Green Bay's only losses in such games during that stretch came three times against Minnesota, twice in Minneapolis (2005, '08) and once at home (2009), and in Week 15 last year at Pittsburgh. Green Bay hasn't turned the ball over in the last 10 quarters of play.
- ▶ Including playoffs, the Packers have won 44 of their last 48 games when they don't turn the ball over. Under McCarthy, Green Bay is 18-3 (.857) when its turnover margin is plus-2 or better.
- ▶ During McCarthy's tenure, the Packers have a 33-6 (.846) record when they come out ahead in the game in turnover ratio, and a 6-17 (.261) record when they lose the takeaway battle.

DOMES AWAY FROM HOME

Three of the Packers' next four games will be played in domes, an environment that they have had some success in during McCarthy's tenure.

- ▶ Since McCarthy took over as head coach in 2006, the Packers are 9-3 (.750) in the regular season in domes. That winning percentage ranks No. 1 in the league among teams with eight or more road dome games.
- ▶ McCarthy won his first six dome games as a head coach before the Packers fell just short at Minnesota in a 28-27 loss on Nov. 9, 2008.
- ▶ Green Bay's offense has been productive indoors, averaging 375.3 yards of total offense and 31.4 points in the 12 dome games compared to averages of 355.3 yards per game and 23.9 points per game in outdoor contests over that span. In eight of the 12 dome games, the Packers posted at least 380 yards of total offense.
- ▶ QB Aaron Rodgers has a 103.4 passer rating in seven career starts in domes, with 1,954 passing yards, 13 TDs and just four INTs on 150-of-230 passing (65.2 percent).
- ▶ The Packers' defense has done its part as well, posting 27 takeaways and six touchdowns in dome games since '06, including five contests with at least three takeaways. That has contributed to Green Bay's plus-10 turnover ratio in dome games since 2006.
- ▶ The dome stretch starts Sunday against a Minnesota team whose home record since 2008 is tied for No. 2 in the NFL. The Vikings are 17-3 (.850) at the Metrodome over the past three seasons, and have allowed just 268.2 yards per game and 16.8 points per game in those contests.
- ▶ Only twice in that 20-game span has Minnesota given up 400 yards of total offense, and the Packers were one of the teams who posted that number. Green Bay registered 424 yards of total offense last season on Oct. 5, 2009, as they became the first team to eclipse the 400-yard mark at Minnesota since the St. Louis Rams recorded 416 on Dec. 31, 2006.

DEFENSE GETTING IT DONE

After finishing No. 2 in the league's final overall rankings and No. 7 in points allowed in 2009, the defense is off to an even more productive start when it comes to keeping opponents off the scoreboard.

- ▶ The Packers rank No. 1 in the league in points given up, allowing the opposition an average of just 15.9 points per game, an improvement over last season's mark of 18.6 per contest. Green Bay currently ranks No. 13 in the NFL in overall defense, allowing an average of 326.0 yards per game through Week 10.
- ▶ The last time Green Bay led the league in scoring defense this late in a season was when it finished No. 1 in the league in that category at the end of the 1996 Super Bowl season (13.1 per game).
- ▶ The defense has limited opposing signal-callers to a passer rating of just 68.3, which ranks No. 1 in the NFL. The defense has recorded 14 interceptions, which is tied for No. 1 in the league, and opposing quarterbacks have completed 57.2 percent of their passes (No. 7). The Packers have given up only nine TD passes, which ranks No. 4 in the NFL. The 68.3 rating is a shade below what the defense allowed in 2009 when it finished No. 4 in the league rankings in that category with a 68.8 rating by opposing QBs.
- ▶ After leading the NFL in run defense for the first time in 2009 by allowing a franchise-record 83.3 yards per game, the Packers haven't been as stingy against the run thus far this season, ranking No. 20 in the league (114.2 yards per game), but have really come on of late.
- ▶ In the win over Dallas in Week 9, the Packers limited the Cowboys to just 39 rushing yards on 14 carries (2.8 avg.). That was the fewest yards given up by a Green Bay defense since Detroit was limited to 33 yards on the ground on Oct. 17, 2004.
- ▶ At the N.Y. Jets in Week 8, the defense registered the first road shutout by the Packers since 1991 against an offense that entered the game ranked No. 2 in the league in rushing offense at 159.2 yards per game.
- ▶ Facing LaDainian Tomlinson and Shonn Greene, the Packers limited the tandem to just 76 yards on 22 carries (3.5 avg.), their lowest combined effort of the season.
- ▶ Until Vikings RB Adrian Peterson rushed for 131 yards in Week 7, Green Bay's defense hadn't allowed a running back to rush for 100 yards for 19 straight games.
- ▶ That streak was the second longest in in team history since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger, trailing only a 24-game game stretch from Sept. 20, 1970-Nov. 22, 1971.
- ▶ Under defensive coordinator Dom Capers, the Packers thrived in their new 3-4 scheme in 2009. The team finished the season ranked No. 1 against the run and No. 5 against the pass.
- ▶ The previous top ranking in franchise history in run defense came in 1972, when the team finished No. 2.
- ▶ Green Bay allowed an average of 284.4 total yards per game in '09, second behind the N.Y. Jets (252.3) and ahead of No. 3 Baltimore (300.5).
- ▶ In the first two years of the Mike McCarthy tenure, Green Bay's defense was close to being a top-10 unit, finishing at No. 12 in 2006 and No. 11 in 2007. In 2008, it slipped to No. 20 before making the jump up to No. 2 last year.
- ▶ A look at some of Green Bay's defensive numbers since Capers took over as coordinator in 2009:

His 81.8 completion percentage was the second-highest in league history for a QB making his first start. LAST MEETING, REGULAR SEASON

Oct. 24, 2010, at Lambeau Field; Packers won, 28-24

- ▶ The Packers picked off Vikings QB Brett Favre three times in the second half and held off a late Minnesota rally for the win.
- ▶ Packers LB Desmond Bishop's 32-yard return of an INT for a TD in the third quarter gave Green Bay a 28-17 lead, but Favre brought the Vikings back with a TD pass to WR Randy Moss and two drives into Green Bay territory in the fourth quarter.
- ▶ The first ended with an INT by S Nick Collins, and the second ended when heaves to Moss in the end zone on third and fourth downs were overthrown. Just a few snaps before, WR Percy Harvin caught what appeared to be a 35-yard TD pass with under a minute left, but replay review showed Harvin was out of bounds.
- ▶ Favre finished 16-of-29 for 212 yards. Packers QB Aaron Rodgers was 21-of-34 for 295 yards with two INTs and two TDs, to WR Greg Jennings and TE Andrew Quarless. WR James Jones had four receptions for 107 yards.

- ▶ Packers TE Jermichael Finley had six catches for a regular-season high 128 yards, with a career-long 62-yard TD. WR Jordy Nelson added a 33-yard TD in the fourth quarter as the Packers tried to come back, but following Mason Crosby's 31-yard FG with 55 seconds left, the Vikings recovered the onside kick.

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

CLAY FINDS A WAY

Despite sitting out Green Bay's Week 6 matchup vs. Miami due to a hamstring injury, the first time he missed a game in his career, LB Clay Matthews leads the NFL with 10.5 sacks this season.

- ▶ Matthews was named to the Midseason All-Pro Teams of Pro Football Weekly and Sports Illustrated, and was selected by the Dallas Morning News as the Midseason Defensive Player of the Year in the NFL.
- ▶ With a sack of QB Jon Kitna in the second quarter in Week 9 against Dallas, Matthews became the first Packer since the stat became official in 1982 to register a double-digit sack total in each of his first two seasons in the NFL.
- ▶ Matthews also posted his first career interception in Week 9, and returned the pick 62 yards for a TD on his way to earning NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors for the third time in his career. It was the second TD of his career, and both of his scores have come in prime-time games. Matthews returned a fumble 42 yards for a TD last season in Week 4 at Minnesota on Monday Night Football.
- ▶ With three sacks against the Buffalo Bills in Week 2, Matthews became the first Packer to post three sacks in back-to-back games since it became an official league statistic in 1982.
- ▶ The performance vs. Buffalo came a week after Matthews registered a career-high three sacks in the Packers' 27-20 season-opening victory at Philadelphia.
- ▶ Matthews was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for Week 2, and he also won the award last season for his two-sack outing vs. Baltimore in Week 13 on MNF.
- ▶ Matthews' six sacks in the first two games of the season were the most ever by a Packer to start a year.
- ▶ His 33 sack yards vs. Buffalo were the most by a Packer since DE Reggie White's 35 on two sacks vs. Minnesota on Oct. 22, 1995. Matthews leads the league with 67.5 sack yards on the season. Aaron Kampman (108 in 2006) holds the single-season team record for sack yardage.
- ▶ His six sacks over a two-game span rank second in team history behind Bryce Paup, who recorded 6.5 sacks in Weeks 3-4 in 1991. Paup posted 4.5 sacks vs. Tampa Bay on Sept. 15, and then followed that up with two more the next week at Miami on Sept. 22.
- ▶ In just 24 career games played, Matthews has posted two or more sacks in a game five times. Those five set a franchise record for the most two-sack games over the first 18 games in a Packers uniform, breaking White's mark of four in his first 18 games with Green Bay (1993-94).
- ▶ Matthews' 20.5 sacks since 2009 rank No. 1 in the NFL.
- ▶ Matthews' 17 sacks in his first 20 games were the most ever by any NFL player to start a career. It topped the previous mark of 16.5 set by San Diego's Leslie O'Neal (1986, 1988) and the N.Y. Jets' John Abraham (2000-01).
- ▶ In 2009, Matthews set a Packers rookie record with 10 sacks on his way to earning Pro Bowl honors, the first Green Bay rookie to be named to the all-star game since Hall of Fame WR James Lofton in 1978.

UNDER PRESSURE

After recording six sacks in Week 1 at Philadelphia, the most by any NFL team on opening weekend, the Packers have followed that debut up with 22 more sacks in the next eight games.

- ▶ Green Bay's 28 sacks as a team through Week 10 are tied for the NFL lead with St. Louis. The Packers trail only the Rams (198) in sack yardage with 186 yards, and have had 12 different players record a sack this season.
- ▶ The Packers' 28 sacks through their first nine games are the most by a Green Bay defense since the 2006 squad registered 31 sacks in the first nine contests.
- ▶ Green Bay was shut out in the sack column for the first time this season in Week 6 against Miami. The Packers have failed to register a sack only - two times in the past 18 regular-season games.

- ▶ The Packers' 21 sacks in the first five games this year were the most in a five-game span in Head Coach Mike McCarthy's five seasons.
- ▶ Green Bay recorded five sacks at Washington in Week 5, the Packers' second five-sack game this season. Green Bay is one of only three teams in the league (Detroit, Tennessee) to post two five-sack games in 2010.
- ▶ Of the team's 28 sacks, 10.5 have come courtesy of LB Clay Matthews, who leads the NFL in that category. DE Cullen Jenkins, who ranks second on the team with four sacks, posted a sack in each of the first four games.
- ▶ The Packers are already well ahead of their sack pace from last season, when Green Bay's 28th sack didn't come until Week 14 at Chicago.
- ▶ Green Bay has posted four or more sacks in a game four times already this season, which already eclipses the 2009 total of three. The Packers recorded 37 sacks last season, which was tied for No. 11 in the league.
- ▶ The Packers' best league ranking in sacks was No. 3, a spot they held on three occasions (1965, 1966, 2001).

FIGHTING THROUGH ADVERSITY

Every team in the league has to deal with injuries at some point in the year, and the Packers have already had to deal with a season's worth of significant ones in just the first half of the season.

- ▶ The Packers have lost six players who started in Week 1 for the remainder of the season due to injuries, three on each side of the ball.
- ▶ RB Ryan Grant, coming off back-to-back 1,200-yard seasons, sustained a season-ending ankle injury in Week 1 at Philadelphia. TE Jermichael Finley, whose 301 yards receiving in the first four games was the best start ever to a season by a Green Bay tight end, was lost for the year after suffering a knee injury on the second play from scrimmage at Washington in Week 5. T Mark Tauscher, who sustained a shoulder injury in Week 4 vs. Detroit, was placed on injured reserve last Friday.
- ▶ Rookie S Morgan Burnett, who became only the second Packers rookie safety to start a season opener since 1988, sustained a season-ending knee injury against Detroit in Week 4. In the same game, LB Nick Barnett, the No. 2 tackler in franchise history, suffered a wrist injury that brought an end to his season. LB Brad Jones saw his season come to an end after sustaining a shoulder injury in Week 7 vs. Minnesota.
- ▶ The Packers currently have 11 players on injured reserve, and seven of those players started at least one game this season. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, no other team in the league has more than three players on injured reserve that started a game in 2010.
- ▶ Here is a look at the starters and key reserves that have missed games due to injury this season:

MIKE McCARTHY TRANSCRIPT

EXCERPTS FROM THE COACH – MONDAY, NOV. 15

► (How did you guys look after the week off?)

Our football team is healthier. It was good to get outside today and practice in pads. We were able to do a number of fundamental drills, had some individual work with the offense and defense. We had a chance to walk through some things on special teams. Our focus was on normal down-and-distance for the Minnesota Vikings, so it was great to get back at it and we're healthier. There is nothing like practicing outside; it was a beautiful day.

► (Can you talk about the move of Tauscher to injured reserve?)

Mark Tauscher to IR is clearly a medical decision. Obviously Mark suffered a significant injury I don't recall exactly which week. We went through a week or so of opinions. He made a lot of progress week to week, pretty much practicing with the harness. Without getting into the intricacies, we were trying to do more and more each week. It just got to a point where it was in Mark's best interests to have the surgery, and then from a big-picture standpoint, the opportunity to bring back Spencer Havner was the personnel decision we made. I don't think we would have been able to get Mark to the point where he would have been able to play with the harness with the things involved, the way he does play and the fact that it is his right shoulder as opposed to his left shoulder. But he made a lot of progress. You give Mark a ton of credit for trying to play with the injury. Some people are not able to do that. He gave it a go. He is also going to still be a big part of our football team. We have asked him to stay a part of it in the meetings and travel with the team and so forth. That is not always the case with individuals that are on IR or PUP. Everybody is a little different, but Mark Tauscher is still a big part of our football team.

► (Do you lose anything not having a guy like him or Al Harris on the 53 in terms of their experience?)

It's part of the game. I had an opportunity to talk to Al today. Al Harris has played over a 100-plus games. Mark has had a tremendous career here. They bring so much experience, both to the field and to the locker room. Yes, that's part of it, but it's also the path of our season. Injuries do occur, decisions are made, and we're always going to operate and do what is in the best interests of the Green Bay Packers from the chairs that we sit in. But Al Harris and Mark Tauscher have been excellent Packers and we appreciate that, but at some point careers do come to an end and you move on and you appreciate what they have done. Mark will continue to do so and be a part of our football team.

► (You guys have been pretty good (3-1) coming out of the bye. What is the biggest challenge there?)

We may be 3-1, but there is no secret to it. Every year is different, and this year has definitely been a different challenge for us. We needed this bye. We do want to pick up where we left off as far as winning. That's the most important thing, don't get me wrong, I'm stating the obvious here. But more importantly, we need to improve. So the opportunity to practice in pads today, the opportunity to practice the right way, to have a pretty healthy football team to me has always been the focus coming out of the bye. It's about winning games, it's about improving. You've got to play your best football in November and December. That's always been our plan, which I am sure is everybody's plan, but that's the way we'll structure our practices.

► (During the time off, as coaches do you spend a lot of time experimenting with new things and is there a challenge not to do too much of that?)

I think it is very important to be extremely critical of yourself, and we have done that. We have gone through the first nine games. You'll see some adjustments as we move forward. You may notice them, you may not. We have been very much in tune with the personnel groups we are using, how we are using people, how we can better use them as we go down the stretch. It's a challenge when you have a healthy team to get your inactive list in order, and that will be a challenge this week going from 53 to 45. Those are the challenges you want, but we're just going to make sure we are using everybody the best that we can, whether it is certain individuals in different personnel groups where we haven't used them before and so forth. This time was very good for us coaches.

► (Generally speaking, what were you most critical of yourself in?)

Just more scheme things. I read our profile to the team today, what we look like to the rest of the league as far as where we rank statistically, but more importantly, how we can improve in those areas. Statistics to me are excellent barometers to look at a certain area and break it down and apply it appropriately. You can overreact to statistics. It's not that we don't look at them. We look at all of that stuff weekly, but we just had a little more time to break down the film and really apply it to our game-planning. Just more schematic adjustments I would say.

► (With Havner back and the linebackers you added a couple of weeks ago, are your special teams as good as they've been in a while?)

Our profile on special teams is we've been up and down, and the biggest challenge that we've had as a football team because of the number of personnel changes has directly hit on special teams. The thing we're going to fight for is consistency in our special teams units. That's the first thing we need to improve, because there's times where our kickoff coverage is excellent, and that's reflected by how many times we've stopped them inside the 20. But then we've also had I think four kicks come out crossing the minus-40. The consistency is really the No. 1 focus for special teams.

► (From a health perspective, were there any guys that have been playing the whole time but have been playing hurt and really benefited from the bye, maybe Woodson?)

I think you could say that for a lot of your players. I know we have an injury report that's very important, and you put it out there. But they've all got bumps and bruises. To have gone through a season and having a bye week at Week 9, in hindsight, that's a challenge. To play nine straight games before having a bye, I think any team that plays that long without a bye would be beat up, and we definitely fell in that category. So our whole football team benefited from it.

► (How can James Starks help you?)

He's a talented young man, there's no question, if you've had a chance to watch him the last three weeks. He had the No. 28 jersey on, and he looked dang good in it today. He's a big, physical, athletic runner. He's got a lot to learn. He needs the details of the little work, the little things that you get into in the team periods. I think we had 24 plays of the opponent team, and he may have ran the ball on 18 of them, and that's exactly what he needs, because that's what he missed. He missed a big part of the spring, he missed all of training camp. He's missed a lot of football.

► (Because of all that time he missed, is it important to get a look at him now?)

His look's over. He's on the 53. He's competing to play. I'm not looking at him. He's one of our 53. He needs to get ready to play, and that's what all 53 players look for, an opportunity to compete during the week. We do it in our Tuesday meetings normally in a normal week, we stack the board, how you get from 53 to 45, this player is competing against that player. Special teams is usually the tiebreaker. He needs to compete to get up on the field on Sundays.

► (Is Charlie creating one of those good problems to have as a coach at safety? It doesn't look like he's going to give up his spot to Atari without a fight.)

I agree with your opinion. Charlie has played the best football Charlie Peprah has played as a Green Bay Packer, and that's exciting. He's done a very good job. He's an excellent communicator. He's done a very good job down around the box. He's tackling better than I've seen him tackle. He's had a chance to get healthy. He was banged up in the beginning of the season. He's played very well for us the last three or four weeks.

► (Watching the Vikings, did they look a lot different than they did a month ago when you played them here?)

Well, they look ... they're a different team in my opinion on grass than they are on turf. I think playing up in the dome is a really big advantage for them with the crowd noise. I thought schematically how they're playing, they're doing a lot of similar things.

PROTECTION THE KEY

Green Bay's offensive line didn't allow a single sack of QB Aaron Rodgers against Minnesota in Week 7, the third time this year that the sixth-year QB was not sacked in a game.

- ▶ Prior to Rodgers being sacked in the second quarter vs. Detroit in Week 4, the offensive line had not allowed a sack in 11 straight quarters, the longest streak for the team since 2007.
- ▶ Over the past 12 regular-season games, Rodgers has been sacked either once or not at all in seven of those contests, including Week 9 against Dallas when the line allowed just one sack.
- ▶ In his three years as the starting quarterback, there have been 15 games where the line has given up either one sack or no sacks of Rodgers. The Packers have an 12-3 (.800) mark in those contests.
- ▶ The effect that protection has is evident in Rodgers' numbers in those games, as he has completed 346-of-495 passes (69.9 percent) for 4,046 yards and 31 TDs with just seven INTs for a 109.4 passer rating.
- ▶ The Packers have allowed 17 sacks this season (No. 11 in the NFL), much better than their 2009 pace when they gave up 41 sacks in the first nine contests.
- ▶ When Rodgers has been sacked four or more times in a game during his career, the Packers are 4-9 (.308).
- ▶ Injuries and performance issues affected the offensive line in the first half of 2009. Once the line regained some continuity down the stretch, it allowed just 10 sacks of Rodgers over the final seven games.
- ▶ Green Bay has had stability along the line in 2010, with four linemen, LT Chad Clifton, LG Daryn Colledge, C Scott Wells, and RG Josh Sitton starting every game, and rookie RT Bryan Bulaga opening the last five at RT with veteran Mark Tauscher sidelined due to injury. Tauscher was placed on injured reserve (shoulder) last week.

THIRD-DOWN IMPROVEMENT

Green Bay's offense hasn't had the same kind of success that it enjoyed last season on third down, but in the 45-7 win over Dallas in Week 9, the Packers recorded the finest performance in that area in more than five years.

- ▶ Coming into the game ranked No. 26 in the league with a 35.1 conversion rate on third down this season, the offense was successful on 10-of-15 third-down opportunities against the Cowboys, including 7-of-8 in the first half.
- ▶ That percentage of 66.7 was the best single-game performance by a Green Bay offense since the Packers were successful on 71.4 percent of their third-down opportunities (10-of-14) vs. Cleveland on Sept. 18, 2005.
- ▶ With the strong showing in Week 9 vs. Dallas, the Packers have moved up 13 spots in the league rankings in the category, checking in tied for No. 13 with a 39.4 conversion rate.
- ▶ The Packers were one of the best teams in the league on third down in 2009, as they converted at a 47.0 percent clip. That led the NFC and ranked No. 3 in the NFL.
- ▶ QB Aaron Rodgers' play on third down was a big factor in Green Bay's success as he ranked No. 1 in the NFL in passer rating on third down at 133.5. No other quarterback in the league threw for as many yards (1,710) or touchdowns (14) on third down as Rodgers, and his passer rating was the best in the NFL since Kurt Warner's 137.3 rating in 1999 with St. Louis.
- ▶ This season the Packers have had some success in third-and-long situations, and are tied for No. 6 in the NFL with a 32.7 conversion rate when they need 6 or more yards on third down.

SPREADING IT AROUND

With back-to-back 1,200-yard rusher Ryan Grant lost for the season after sustaining an ankle injury in Week 1 at Philadelphia, the Packers have turned to a couple of backs to carry the load for the offense.

- ▶ Brandon Jackson, who excelled in his role as a third-down back in 2009, leads the team with a career-high 460 rushing yards on 108 carries this season (4.3 avg.), and yards from scrimmage with a career-best 653.
- ▶ Jackson posted a career-high 115 yards on 10 carries (11.5 avg.) at Washington in Week 5, highlighted by a career-long 71-yard run on his first carry of the game.

- ▶ Jackson registered one of the finest all-around performances of his career vs. Minnesota in Week 7, recording 104 yards from scrimmage (58 rushing, 46 receiving). His 36-yard pickup on a first-quarter screen pass was his career-long reception.
- ▶ Jackson also has 25 receptions for 193 yards (7.7 avg.) this season, with the yardage total a career high. It tops his previous mark of 187 yards receiving last season.
- ▶ Against Dallas in Week 9, Jackson posted a rushing TD and a receiving TD, only the second time in his career that he scored on both in a game (vs. Seattle, Dec. 27, 2009).
- ▶ The Packers rushed for 157 yards as a team at Washington in Week 5 on just 17 carries (9.2 avg.). It was the first time in team history that the Packers rushed for 150 yards in a regular-season game on fewer than 20 carries.
- ▶ The Packers' rushing average of 9.2 yards per carry against the Redskins was the best single-game performance (min. 15 attempts) in a regular-season game in team history.
- ▶ John Kuhn, primarily at fullback during his first three seasons in Green Bay, has been given more opportunities to carry the ball at RB. Against Detroit in Week 4, Kuhn posted 34 of his 39 rushing yards on the final series, as the Packers ran out the final 6:32 in the 28-26 win. He has 175 rushing yards on 49 carries (3.6 avg.) this season.
- ▶ Kuhn recorded career highs in both carries (13) and rushing yards (50) against the Cowboys, highlighted by a 17-yard run in the second quarter to convert a third down.
- ▶ The Packers have posted 26 runs of 10-plus yards this season, ahead of their 2009 pace when they ranked No. 23 in the league with 42 runs of 10 yards or more.

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

ON THE ROAD AGAIN

Green Bay finished 5-3 on the road in 2009, the third time in four seasons it had finished above .500 under Head Coach Mike McCarthy.

- ▶ The Packers have been able to stay above the .500 mark on the road during McCarthy's tenure, a notable achievement in the National Football League.
- ▶ Green Bay got off to a good start this year with a win at Philadelphia in the season opener. It was the fifth straight season under McCarthy that the Packers have won their first road game of the year. The Packers are 2-2 away from Lambeau Field this season, with four of their next five contests coming on the road.
- ▶ Since 2006, McCarthy's first season as the head coach in Green Bay, only 11 of 32 NFL teams have regular-season road records over .500.

290 AND COUNTING

Another packed house at Lambeau Field against the Cowboys in Week 9 brought the stadium's consecutive sellouts streak to 290 games (274 regular season, 16 playoffs).

- ▶ The Week 7 crowd of 71,107 vs. Minnesota was the third-largest regular-season crowd in Lambeau Field history.
- ▶ The league's longest-tenured stadium, Lambeau Field is hosting its 54th season of football this year. A total of 565,666 fans made their way through the turnstiles in the eight home contests in 2009.
- ▶ Across American professional sports, only Boston's Fenway Park (1912) and Chicago's Wrigley Field (1914) have longer tenures.

THE LAMBEAU ADVANTAGE

The crown jewel of the National Football League, Lambeau Field has long been known as one of the tougher venues to play in, particularly during the harsh Wisconsin winter.

- ▶ Re-establishing home-field advantage after a 4-4 mark in 2008 was one of the goals of 2009, and with the Packers finishing 6-2 at home, they accomplished that goal.
- ▶ Head Coach Mike McCarthy stated consistently upon his arrival in Green Bay that one of the team's goals would be to reclaim the mystique of playing at Lambeau Field. Mission accomplished. The team is 24-9 at home since 2007 including playoffs, a marked improvement over the prior three seasons (10-14 combined), including a 4-1 mark this season.
- ▶ Since Ron Wolf and Mike Holmgren began the revitalization of the franchise in 1992, Green Bay owns the best home record in the NFL. A look at the top regular-season home W-L records since the '92 season:

Team	W-L record	Pct.

HOME COOKING

The Packers' win over Dallas at Lambeau last November was the first step to a 7-1 finish and a playoff berth for Green Bay.

- ▶ Since that Week 10 victory over the Cowboys, the Packers have been one of the best teams in the league at home. Green Bay's lone defeat over that span came to Miami this season in Week 6 when the Packers fell to the Dolphins in overtime.

IN THE FREE-AGENCY ERA

Talk of unrestricted free agency in the early '90s led many to forecast tough times for the small-town Green Bay Packers.

- ▶ However, Green Bay has remained among the most successful teams since the advent of free agency in 1993. The Packers have won 10 or more games 10 times since '93 and captured seven division crowns.
- ▶ A look at the most successful teams in the free-agency era:

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

TAKING HIS PLACE AMONG THE GAME'S BEST

Now firmly entrenched in his role as the face of the franchise, QB Aaron Rodgers has gone from solid first-year starter to one of the game's top young signal-callers over the past three seasons.

- ▶ Through Week 10, Rodgers once again finds himself among the league leaders in several passing categories. He ranks No. 8 with 2,300 yards, tied for No. 10 with 15 TD passes, and No. 4 in passes of 25-plus yards with 20.
- ▶ In the Week 9 victory over Dallas, Rodgers didn't throw an interception for the second straight game, and hasn't been picked off in the last 10 quarters of play, a streak of 81 attempts without an INT.
- ▶ Rodgers ranked near the top of the NFL in most passing categories in 2009 and was the youngest of the six quarterbacks named to the Pro Bowl last season.
- ▶ In 2009, he engineered one of the NFL's most potent offenses, ranked No. 6 overall, and avoided costly mistakes, spearheading a team that had a league-low 16 giveaways (15 on offense).
- ▶ His 103.2 passer rating ranked fourth in the NFL. In addition, he was the game's top-ranked passer on third down (133.5).
- ▶ Last season, Rodgers threw for 4,434 yards, fourth most in the league. That total finished just shy of Lynn Dickey's franchise record (4,458, 1983) for passing yards in a single season.
- ▶ In addition to QB rating and passing yards, Rodgers ranked fourth in TD passes (30) and first in interception percentage (1.3) in 2009.
- ▶ And just for good measure, he ranked second among QBs with 316 rushing yards on 58 carries (5.4 avg.), and added five rushing TDs.
- ▶ Rodgers joined Steve Young (San Francisco, 1998) as the only quarterbacks in NFL history to throw for 4,000 yards and 30 TDs and rush for 300 yards and five TDs in the same season.
- ▶ In 41 career starts, Rodgers has eclipsed the century mark in passer rating 21 times and recorded 11 games of 300-plus yards. He posted his 20th career 100-plus passer rating game in just his 36th career start, which ranks third among NFL QBs since 1970 behind only Kurt Warner (33) and Tony Romo (34).
- ▶ Rodgers has started 41 straight games, which is tied for No. 5 among active NFL quarterbacks.
- ▶ Here is a look at where Rodgers ranks among NFL quarterbacks since he took over as the starter in 2008:

GOING DEEP

Green Bay has been one of the league's most dangerous teams in yards after the catch the past few seasons, and its consistent standing near the top of those rankings is due in large part to WR Greg Jennings.

- ▶ Jennings' 86-yard score against Miami in Week 6 marked a career long for both him and QB Aaron Rodgers.
- ▶ It was the longest reception by a Green Bay player since WR Robert Brooks hauled in a 99-yard TD from QB Brett Favre at Chicago on Sept. 11, 1995, on Monday Night Football. WR Donald Driver had a 90-yard TD grab in the 2007 NFC Championship Game on Jan. 20, 2008.
- ▶ Jennings' 86-yard reception is the fourth-longest play from scrimmage in the NFL this season behind a pair of players from the NFC North, Chicago RB Matt Forté (89-yard TD reception vs. Detroit in Week 1) and Detroit WR Calvin Johnson (87-yard TD catch at the N.Y. Giants in Week 6), and Philadelphia WR DeSean Jackson (88-yard TD catch at Washington in Week 10).
- ▶ It was the fourth 80-yard reception of Jennings' career, moving him into the No. 1 spot in the franchise record books ahead of teammate Donald Driver (3). Jennings and Buffalo WR Lee Evans are tied for the NFL lead in 80-yard catches in a career among active NFL players.
- ▶ When it comes to scoring passes, Jennings has an eye-popping average during his career. Of his 34 career touchdown catches, 14 (41.2 percent) have been at least 40 yards in length. He has a staggering average of 33.0 yards per TD catch, which ranks No. 2 among current players with at least 20 career touchdown catches.
- ▶ After a getting off to a slower start this season with just 14 catches in the first five games, Jennings has picked up his production in the last four contests. He has caught 25 passes, at least six receptions in four straight contests for the first time in his career, for 368 yards (14.7 avg.) with three touchdowns.

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

THE INTERCEPTORS

Leading the way when it comes to takeaways for Green Bay has been the defensive-back tandem of CB Charles Woodson and S Nick Collins.

- ▶ Woodson is tied for the No. 1 spot among all NFL players since 2008 with 18 interceptions (Eagles CB Asante Samuel), with Collins tied for the No. 5 position with 14 over that span.
- ▶ Collins ranks No. 2 among all NFL players (Baltimore S Ed Reed, 439) with 408 interception return yards since '08, and Woodson inched closer with his 48-yard INT return for a TD vs. Detroit in Week 4. He has moved into the No. 3 spot in the league, checking in with 396 INT return yards over the past three seasons.
- ▶ Collins has some work to do if he hopes to keep up with Woodson's pace of return TDs. Woodson leads the league since 2008 with six INT returns for touchdowns, with Collins tied for the No. 3 spot with three scores.
- ▶ The Packers rank tied for No. 2 in the NFL with four other teams with 14 interceptions this season, including seven INTs in the past 10 quarters of play. Green Bay is tied for No. 2 in the league with five INT returns of 20-plus yards.
- ▶ Woodson and Collins have helped put the Packers at the top of the leaderboard in all three interception categories since 2008:

Team	Interceptions
1. Green Bay	66
2. Baltimore	56
3. Tampa Bay	55

YOUTH IS SERVED

Whenever injuries occur, it is a chance for other players on the roster to show what they are capable of in an expanded role. For Green Bay this season, many of those opportunities have gone to younger players.

- ▶ Six Green Bay rookies have started a game in 2010, tied with Kansas City and New England for the most in the league. The last time the Packers had that many rookies start at least one game in a season came in 2007 (also six).
- ▶ S Morgan Burnett, a third-round pick out of Georgia Tech, became only the second Packers rookie safety to start on opening day since 1988. He opened the first four games, posting 15 tackles and an interception, before sustaining a season-ending knee injury in Week 4.
- ▶ Burnett was joined in the starting lineup in Week 1 by nickel CB Sam Shields, a non-drafted rookie out of Miami. It was the first time since the 1970 merger that the Packers started two rookie DBs on opening day. Shields has 12 tackles and an interception in seven games played as the Packers' nickel cornerback.
- ▶ T Bryan Bulaga, the team's first-round pick out of Iowa who worked at LT and LG all preseason, has started each of the past five games at RT in place of injured veteran Mark Tauscher.
- ▶ LB Frank Zombo, a non-drafted free agent from Central Michigan, has played in every game with four starts and ranks tied for third among all NFL rookies with two sacks. He leads all Green Bay rookies with 37 tackles (24 solo) and a forced fumble.
- ▶ TE Andrew Quarless started his first career game vs. Detroit in Week 4 and figures to factor more prominently in the offense with starting TE Jermichael Finley (knee) lost for the season. Quarless posted 51 yards receiving at Washington in Week 5 to become the first Packers rookie TE to register a 50-yard game since Bubba Franks in 2000. Quarless scored his first NFL TD on a 9-yard reception in the Week 7 win vs. Minnesota.

- ▶ DE C.J. Wilson, a seventh-round selection from East Carolina, started for the first time in his career in Week 6 vs. Miami in place of an injured Ryan Pickett, and posted four tackles. He has seen significant time in the past three games, recording 15 tackles (nine solo) in those contests. Wilson registered his first career sack on Sunday against Dallas, bringing down QB Jon Kitna on the final play of the game.

AS GOOD AS HE'S EVER BEEN

In 2009, CB Charles Woodson enjoyed the finest season of his career, his first year in the 3-4 scheme, and has continued his impactful ways this season.

- ▶ Woodson ranks tied for second on the team with two interceptions this season, and has been productive again in tackles as he ranks No. 2 on the team with 62 stops (48 solo). Last season he recorded a career-high 81 tackles (63 solo).
- ▶ Woodson leads the Packers with three forced fumbles this season, his second straight season with at least three (four in 2009). He is only of only two defensive backs in the NFL (Bears CB Charles Tillman) to register three or more forced fumbles each of the last two seasons.
- ▶ Woodson achieved the highest individual honor bestowed upon a defensive player, taking home The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year award last season. He also was named an AP first-team All-Pro.
- ▶ His 48-yard interception return for a touchdown in the third quarter against Detroit this season in Week 4 was his eighth career with the Packers, which set a franchise record. He had been tied with Hall of Fame CB Herb Adderley (seven, 1961-69) for the team mark.
- ▶ It was also Woodson's ninth defensive TD (eight INTs, one fumble return) in a Green Bay uniform, which further extended his franchise record.
- ▶ The touchdown gave Woodson 10 interception returns for touchdowns in his career (two with Oakland), which moved him up in the NFL record books as he became just the third player in league history to post 10 career interception returns for touchdowns. He now trails only Rod Woodson (12) and Darren Sharper (11).
- ▶ Woodson has returned an INT for a touchdown in five straight seasons, all five of his years in Green Bay (2006-10), to become the first player in NFL history to return an INT for a touchdown in five consecutive seasons.
- ▶ The score in Week 4 was also the third straight year that Woodson has returned an INT for a TD against Detroit. He is the first player in NFL history to return an interception for a TD in three consecutive seasons against the same team.
- ▶ In 2009, Woodson became the fourth player in NFL history since sacks became an official statistic to record at least nine interceptions and two sacks in a single season. Woodson also led the Packers with four forced fumbles.
- ▶ His four forced fumbles tied for second among NFL defensive backs in 2009, and his six sacks since 2008 rank No. 2 among NFL defensive backs.
- ▶ There's no doubt Woodson's career has undergone a revitalization since coming to Green Bay. He now has 47 career interceptions, which is tied for third among active NFL players. Of his interceptions, 30 have come in 71 games with Green Bay. In 106 games with the Raiders, he had 17.
- ▶ No NFL defensive player has been more productive than Woodson when it comes to picking the ball off since 2008:

Player	Interceptions
1t. Charles Woodson, GB	18
1t. Asante Samuel, PHI	18
3t. DeAngelo Hall, WAS	15

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

STEPPING UP

With injuries to MLB Nick Barnett and nickel LB Brandon Chillar, BLB A.J. Hawk and MLB Desmond Bishop have stepped into the role of every-down linebackers the past five games, and the tandem has taken advantage of the opportunities.

- ▶ Hawk leads the team with 78 tackles (55 solo) through nine games, including a season-high 16 stops in Week 6 vs. Miami and a team-high 13 tackles in Week 7 against Minnesota.
- ▶ The 29 tackles in those two games rank second in Hawk's career for the most tackles over a two-game span, trailing only a combined 33 tackles during his rookie campaign of 2006 (Nov. 27-Dec. 3).
- ▶ Hawk is also tied for second on the team with two interceptions, which matches his career high set in 2006 and 2009. With the two INTs, Hawk ranks tied for No. 1 among NFL linebackers in that category this season.
- ▶ He is the only linebacker in the league to intercept two passes in each of the past two seasons, and Hawk's four interceptions since Week 13 of 2009 lead all NFL linebackers over that span.
- ▶ Hawk has been one of the most reliable Packers defenders since coming to Green Bay in the 2006 NFL Draft. He hasn't missed a game in his career, playing in all 73 contests with 70 starts. The only non-starts came in both Minnesota games in 2009 and the 2010 opener at Philadelphia when the team opened in nickel.
- ▶ Prior to this season, most of Bishop's playing time came on special teams, a role he excelled in from 2007-09 as he led the team over that span with 49 tackles.
- ▶ Ever since Barnett went down with a season-ending wrist injury in Week 4 vs. Detroit, Bishop has moved into the starting lineup and made his presence felt.
- ▶ In five starts, Bishop has registered 57 tackles, which more than doubles his best season total of 27 tackles in 2008. His 58 tackles on the season (38 solo) rank No. 3 on the team, and he is tied with Hawk for the lead among the LBs with a career-best five passes defended. Bishop has also posted a career-high two sacks.
- ▶ In the Week 7 win vs. Minnesota, Bishop made one of the game's key plays when he picked off QB Brett Favre in the third quarter and returned the interception 32 yards for a touchdown. It was the first INT and TD of the fourth-year linebacker's career, and the first INT return for a TD by a Packers LB since Barnett posted a 95-yarder vs. New Orleans on Oct. 9, 2005.
- ▶ With Hawk adding an INT of his own against the Vikings, the duo became the first Packers LB tandem to each post an INT in the same game since Barnett and Brady Poppinga posted picks at Miami on Oct. 22, 2006.

CLIFFY GETS TO 150

When T Chad Clifton lined up as the starting left tackle in Week 7 vs. Minnesota, he became just the 19th player in Packers history to appear in 150 career games in a Green Bay uniform.

- ▶ Clifton is just the sixth offensive lineman in franchise annals to hit the 150-game mark, joining Forrest Gregg (187), Larry McCarren (162), Ron Hallstrom (162), Ken Ruettgens (156) and Frank Winters (156).
- ▶ Against the division-rival Vikings, Clifton posted one of his finer performances in recent memory, limiting Pro Bowl DE Jared Allen to just one tackle and no sacks. The line as a whole didn't allow a sack all evening, the third time this season that QB Aaron Rodgers has not been sacked in a game.
- ▶ Clifton was sidelined for both games against Minnesota in 2009 because of an ankle injury, and Allen registered 7.5 sacks in those two contests.
- ▶ In Week 9, Clifton was matched up for much of the evening with Pro Bowl LB DeMarcus Ware, who came into the game tied for No. 2 in the league with eight sacks. Clifton limited him to just two tackles and no sacks as the line allowed just one sack of Rodgers on the night.

FEWER FLAGS ON THE FIELD

One area of emphasis this offseason for the Packers this season was reducing the number of penalties, and that focus has paid dividends.

- ▶ Through Week 10, Green Bay ranks tied for No. 8 in the league with 52 accepted penalties (5.8 per game), a pace that would make for a noticeable improvement from 2009. The Packers check in at No. 7 in penalty yardage with 410 yards, an average of 45.6 yards per game.
- ▶ The Packers led the league in penalties last season with 118 while ranking second in penalty yardage with 1,057, the third straight year that they finished among the top five most-penalized teams.
- ▶ With just two penalties for 20 yards in Week 9 against the Cowboys, the Packers have been flagged just seven times for a total of 55 yards over their past three games. The Dallas contest was the fifth game this season that Green Bay has been called for three or fewer penalties in a game, the best-single season mark since five games in 1990.
- ▶ The five games are more than any other year under Head Coach Mike McCarthy, and Green Bay didn't have a single game last season with three or fewer penalties. The Packers are 5-0 this season when they are penalized three or fewer times in a game.
- ▶ Green Bay recorded two games with three or fewer penalties in 2008, two in '07 to end the regular season, and three in '06.
- ▶ Since the Packers were flagged a franchise-record 18 times for 152 yards in the loss at Chicago in Week 3, they've committed just 26 penalties for 194 yards over their last six games, an average of 4.3 penalties for 32.3 yards per game.
- ▶ The Packers got off to a good start this season with just two penalties at Philadelphia in Week 1, the fewest by Green Bay in an opening-day contest since Sept. 7, 1986, vs. Houston at Lambeau Field, when they were also called for two penalties.

TRAMON'S TALENTS

- ▶ CB Tramon Williams etched his name into the team's record books with a pair of big plays in Week 5 at Washington.
- ▶ With a 52-yard punt return in the second quarter and a 64-yard interception return in the fourth quarter, Williams became the first player in franchise history to post a 50-yard punt return and a 60-yard interception return in the same game.
- ▶ Showing just how rare the feat is, no player in team annals has ever posted both of those returns in the same season.
- ▶ Williams became just the third NFL player since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970 to accomplish the feat in a game, joining Dallas' Deion Sanders (Sept. 21, 1998) and the late Darrent Williams of the Denver Broncos (Nov. 13, 2005).
- ▶ Explosive plays are nothing new to the fourth-year CB who went undrafted out of Louisiana Tech in 2006. Williams recorded a 94-yard punt return for a score vs. Carolina on Nov. 18, 2007, as well as a 67-yard kickoff return vs. Chicago that season (Oct. 7). Last season, he posted his career-long INT return with a 67-yarder vs. Chicago (Sept. 13).
- ▶ Williams is only the third NFL player whose career began since the 1970 merger to post a 90-yard punt return and interception and kickoff returns of 65 yards in a career, joining Adam Jones and Lemar Parrish.
- ▶ Williams leads the team with three interceptions this season, with all of them coming in the past five games. His 13 passes defended lead the team.
- ▶ At New York in Week 8, Williams recorded an interception, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, the first time in his career he posted all three in the same game. He is one of only two players in the NFL to record each of them in a game this season, joining Jacksonville S Courtney Greene (Week 2). It was the second straight season a Green Bay CB had accomplished that feat, with Charles Woodson registering all three last season at Detroit in Week 12.
- ▶ Williams was recently selected to the Midseason All-Pro team by the Dallas Morning News' Rick Gosselin.

PACKERS TEAM NOTES

TIGHTENING UP

Green Bay's defense has been at its best this season when it has been placed in adverse situations and forced to respond.

- ▶ The Packers have turned the ball over 13 times in the first nine games, but the defense has shown significant improvement from last season in not allowing those giveaways to be converted into touchdowns.
- ▶ Opponents have scored just 18 points (six field goals) following the 13 takeaways this season, an average of 1.38 points per giveaway. That ranks tied for No. 2 in the NFL. The Packers are one of only two teams in the NFL (Baltimore) to not allow a single touchdown after a giveaway this season.
- ▶ Although the Packers led the league in 2009 with 16 giveaways, a franchise record for fewest in a season, opponents were able to convert those turnovers into 70 points. That average of 4.38 points allowed per giveaway was the highest in the NFL.
- ▶ Another aspect of the defense that the Packers have made strides in this season is limiting opponents when they get inside the 20-yard line, an area of emphasis this offseason after some struggles last season.
- ▶ In 2009, the Packers ranked No. 28 in the league in red-zone defense, allowing opponents to score touchdowns on 60.9 percent of trips inside the 20. Green Bay gave up an average of 4.72 points per red-zone trip by its opponents, which ranked No. 21 in the league.
- ▶ Through Week 9, the Packers rank No. 12 in the NFL in red-zone defense, allowing their opponents to get into the end zone just 47.6 percent of the time (10 TDs on 21 opportunities). Green Bay's opponents have come away with a TD or a field goal 81.0 percent of the time, which ranks tied for No. 12 in the NFL. The Packers are giving up an average of 4.33 points per opponent red-zone trip, which ranks tied for No. 11 in the NFL.
- ▶ The best red-zone performance by the defense during Head Coach Mike McCarthy's tenure came in 2007, when the Packers ranked No. 8 in the league by allowing opponents to score a TD on 48.8 percent of trips inside the 20.

POINT PRODUCTION

After outscoring their opponents a combined 54-7 over the past two games, the Packers find themselves atop the NFL's scoring differential column.

- ▶ The Packers have outscored their opponents 221-143 this season, and that 78-point differential is the largest in the NFL through Week 10. Green Bay ranks No. 6 in the NFL with an average margin of victory of 14.5.
- ▶ Last season the Packers ranked No. 3 in the league with an average margin of victory of 18.27, their highest mark since a 21.31 mark in their Super Bowl season of 1996.
- ▶ In 2009, Green Bay ranked No. 2 in the league in scoring differential, with a 164-point advantage over its opponents (461-297). That was second in the league to only the Super Bowl champion New Orleans Saints' 169-point differential (510-341).
- ▶ The Packers have been particularly productive starting each half this season. They have outscored their opponents 54-17 in the first quarter, and that 37-point margin in the opening quarter ranks No. 2 in the league behind only Philadelphia (51).
- ▶ Green Bay has been equally productive to open the second half, outscoring its opponents 59-23 in the third quarter. That margin of 36 points ranks tied for No. 2 in the NFL to only San Diego's 39-point edge.
- ▶ The Packers rank No. 2 in the league in scoring defense, allowing opponents an average of just 15.9 points per game. The last time Green Bay held its opponents to an average of under 16 points a game in a season came in the '96 campaign when the Packers led the league in scoring defense at 13.1 points per game.
- ▶ The Packers rank No. 9 in scoring with an average of 24.6 points per game.

SHOWING OFF SOME OTHER SKILLS

When QB Aaron Rodgers scrambled for a season-long 27-yard gain to convert a third-and-6 against Dallas in Week 9 that set up a TD three plays later, it was just another example of his ability to make plays with his feet.

- ▶ With 173 yards on 34 attempts (5.1 avg.) this season, Rodgers ranks No. 3 among NFL QBs in rushing yards.
- ▶ In 2009, Rodgers finished second among all NFL quarterbacks (David Garrard, 323) with 316 rushing yards, the most by a Green Bay QB since Don Majkowski posted 358 yards on the ground in 1989.
- ▶ Rodgers also led all NFL signal-callers with five rushing touchdowns in '09, the most by a Packers QB since Majkowski's five in '89.
- ▶ It was the second straight year Rodgers had posted four touchdowns in a season, making him just the third QB in franchise annals to accomplish that feat (Tobin Rote, 1954-56; Scott Hunter, 1971-72).
- ▶ With his third rushing TD of the season in Week 6 vs. Miami, Rodgers became the first Packers QB since Rote (1954-56) to rush for three or more TDs in three straight seasons.

▶ Of his 92 rushing attempts since 2009, nearly a quarter (22) have been for 10 or more yards. He has posted a 10-yard run in six of nine games this season, and in 17 of his last 25 games.

▶ Since 2009, Rodgers ranks No. 1 among QBs in rushing yards (489), rushing TDs (eight) and 10-yard runs (22).

PLENTY INSIDE THE 20

Green Bay has had one of the more efficient red-zone offenses in the league over the past two seasons, finishing in the top 10 in the NFL in 2008 and 2009.

▶ Through Week 10, the Packers are off to another productive start, having scored touchdowns on 18 of 28 trips inside the opponent's 20. That 64.3 percent touchdown rate ranks No. 3 in the NFL, and the 18 TDs rank tied for No. 5.

▶ Green Bay's 141 points in the red zone this season (18 touchdowns, five field goals) rank No. 11 in the league. Its average of 5.04 points per red-zone trip ranks No. 6 in the NFL.

▶ The highest red-zone conversion mark under Head Coach Mike McCarthy came in 2008, when the Packers ranked No. 6 in the NFL with a 60.4 percent touchdown rate.

▶ Some of Green Bay's success in the red zone has to be credited to the play of QB Aaron Rodgers, who has been one of the more efficient signal-callers in the league inside the 20 since taking over as the starter in 2008.

▶ In Week 7 against Minnesota, Rodgers threw a red-zone interception for the first time in 39 career starts. Since 2008, he has registered a 106.7 rating on 113-of-185 passing (61.1 percent) for 727 yards and 47 touchdowns with one interception in the red zone.

▶ According to STATS, Rodgers has connected on 28-of-43 passes (65.1 percent) for 189 yards and 11 TDs with one INT in the red zone in 2010.

A LOOK AT THE SCHEDULE

The Green Bay Packers' 90th NFL regular-season schedule – headlined by six nationally televised games – was released in late April.

- ▶ Green Bay opened the 2010 slate on the road at Philadelphia before kicking off the home schedule with the Buffalo Bills in Week 2.
- ▶ Its first prime-time appearance – against the rival Bears in Chicago on Monday Night Football – came in Week 3. The NFL's oldest rivalry was on display in prime time for a fifth straight season, with this first meeting of the year marking game No. 180 in the all-time series.
- ▶ 2010 marks the 18th consecutive season the Packers have appeared on Monday Night Football, the NFC's longest streak.
- ▶ Three games are slated for Sunday night on NBC, including home games in Week 7 against the Minnesota Vikings and a Week 9 contest vs. the Dallas Cowboys. It was the first time in team history that the Packers played back-to-back Sunday night games at home. In Week 15, the Packers are scheduled to take on the Patriots on Sunday night in Foxborough, though the game is subject to the NFL's flex scheduling.
- ▶ The Packers got their first look at the new stadium in New Jersey in Week 8 against the Jets, where they experienced some cool fall temperatures. While games at Lambeau Field later in the season always provide a home-field advantage for the Packers, the 2010 schedule is nearly void of cold-weather road games. Green Bay's next three road contests will be played in domes (Minnesota, Atlanta, Detroit).
- ▶ That's good news for a Green Bay offense that seems to thrive in domes. Including playoffs, the Packers played in a dome five times last season, exceeding 400 total net yards in four of those games.
- ▶ A number of games on the Packers' 2010 schedule – namely those on national TV – are beginning to have a familiar feel. In addition to taking on the Bears for a fifth consecutive year in prime time, Green Bay took on Minnesota in prime time for a third straight season. The Packers and Cowboys met on national TV for the fourth straight season.
- ▶ The schedule concludes with two home games for the first time since 2005. One of the NFL's best teams in regular-season games played in December and January, Green Bay may need to call upon that previous success for what could prove to be two very important contests surrounding the Christmas and New Year's holidays. Games against the Giants (Week 16) and Bears (Week 17) could determine not only the NFC North Division crown but conference playoff seeding.

2010 SCHEDULE NUGGETS

Green Bay's bye week came in Week 10, the latest possible week for NFL teams. It marked the latest time in which the Packers have had a bye in franchise history, besting the Week 9 bye in 2004. The Packers played nine games before the bye and will have seven after the open date.

- ▶ Three of four games before the bye came at Lambeau Field, while four of five games after the bye are road contests.
- ▶ Immediately following the bye comes an important division game this week against Minnesota, the first of three straight road games played in domes. Under McCarthy, the team has won three of four games after the bye week and 10 of its last 14 after the bye dating back further.
- ▶ Green Bay has always been a successful team after the bye and 2009 was no different, as the team compiled a 9-3 (.750) mark after the bye week. Since 2000, the team is 62-36 (.633) overall after the bye.
- ▶ Fifteen games are slated for Sunday, the most since 1993 (also 15).
- ▶ Seven of the final eight games are against NFC opponents.
- ▶ The Packers have six games on the schedule against 2009 playoff teams, including Week 1 at Philadelphia. Beginning in Week 7 vs. Minnesota, Green Bay is playing a stretch of four straight games against playoff teams from a year ago. The team traveled east to take on the Jets in Week 8 and hosted the Cowboys in Week 9 before the bye. The stretch concludes this Sunday at Minnesota.
- ▶ The NFL's oldest rivalry will see a first in 2010. For the first time in series history, Green Bay will host Chicago in the regular-season finale, set to be game No. 181 between the Packers and Bears.

- ▶ At Washington in Week 5, became the first Packer in team history to post a 50-yard punt return and a 60-yard INT return in the same game.
- ▶ Joined the Packers in November 2006 when the team signed him to the practice squad. Originally entered the NFL as a non-drafted free agent with Houston in May 2006.

SS Charlie Peprah, 5-11, 203, 5th Year, Alabama

- ▶ Has started a career-high five games this season and has posted a career-best 31 tackles (25 solo). Has played in 46 career games.
- ▶ Posted 19 tackles and two passes defended along with nine tackles on special teams with the Packers in 2008.
- ▶ Claimed off waivers by the Packers in September 2006 from the N.Y. Giants, who had drafted him in the fifth round (158th overall).

FS Nick Collins, 5-11, 207, 6th Year, Bethune-Cookman

- ▶ Selected to the Pro Bowl for the second straight season in 2009, becoming the first Packers safety to earn the honor in back-to-back seasons since LeRoy Butler (1996-98).
- ▶ Ranks No. 2 on the team with 12 passes defended and ranks No. 5 on the team with 46 tackles (40 solo).
- ▶ Is No. 2 among NFL safeties with 14 interceptions since 2008 (Ed Reed, 15), and his 408 interception return yards rank No. 2 in the league over that span behind only Reed's 439.
- ▶ Returned three INTs for TDs in 2008, the first NFL safety to do so since Kansas City's Lloyd Burruss in 1986. His 295 INT return yards in '08 led the NFL and broke the franchise record (Bobby Dillon, 244 in 1956).

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Michael Vick took off his baseball cap and dusted off that old Superman cape. Filling in for an injured Kevin Kolb, Vick was dynamic. He couldn't lead the Philadelphia Eagles to a win against Green Bay, but his dazzling performance may create a quarterback controversy just one game into the post-Donovan McNabb era. Aaron Rodgers threw a pair of touchdown passes, Mason Crosby kicked a team-record 56-yard field goal and the Packers beat Philadelphia 27-20 on Sunday.

The score was almost an afterthought because Kolb struggled and Vick was so impressive in his first extended action during meaningful minutes in nearly four years. With Kolb sidelined by a concussion, Vick threw for 175 yards, ran for 103 and resembled the guy who went to three Pro Bowls in six seasons with Atlanta.

Still, Andy Reid said it's Kolb's job when he's healthy. Vick's last NFL start came on Dec. 31, 2006, in Philadelphia. He missed the next two seasons while serving an 18-month sentence in federal prison for his role in a dogfighting operation. Vick signed a two-year contract with the Eagles last summer, and saw limited action mostly in a variation of the wildcat formation.

He finally got his chance, and made the most of it. The Packers (1-0) were a popular preseason pick to reach the Super Bowl, and they began their quest for a 13th NFL title with a tough win in a hostile environment.

After a slow start, the Packers got going late in the second quarter and scored on three straight possessions. Ryan Grant ran 13, 8 and 18 yards to spark an 86-yard drive. Greg Jennings kept it going with a leaping, one-handed catch for a 16-yard gain on third-and-9. Rodgers then tossed a 6-yard TD pass to Donald Driver to give the Packers a 10-3 lead.

Kolb was injured in the second quarter when he was tackled from behind by Clay Matthews. The team originally said he had a jaw injury and he returned for a series, completing two short passes. Middle linebacker Stewart Bradley also came back in after he staggered off the field following a collision with teammate Ernie Sims before he sat out the second half.

GREEN BAY 34, BUFFALO 7

Lambeau Field, Sunday, Sept. 19, 2010. Attendance: 70,741. Time: 2:52. Weather: 58° F, Humidity: 51 percent, Wind: Variable 4 mph. GAME 2

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Aaron Rodgers already shouldered plenty of pressure with the Green Bay Packers before losing starting running back Ryan Grant to a season-ending ankle injury last week.

Rodgers is even picking up the slack in the running game, too. Rodgers ran for a touchdown and threw for two more scores and didn't commit a turnover in Green Bay's 34-7 win over the Buffalo Bills on Sunday.

While Rodgers scrambled for 20 of Green Bay's 91 yards rushing, the rest of the running game was quiet. Starter Brandon Jackson gained 29 yards on 11 carries with one score and fullback John Kuhn added 36 yards on nine attempts.

The quarterback certainly has a lot more options by air and the Packers (2-0) appear ready to rely on that until they can figure out how to mount a significant attack again without Grant, their back-to-back 1,200-yard runner.

Jermichael Finley and Donald Driver caught four passes each, while Greg Jennings and James Jones added three more receptions apiece. Buffalo (0-2) had 186 total yards, 20 more than in last week's loss to the Dolphins.

Packers linebacker Clay Matthews sacked Trent Edwards three times to give him six this season and Green Bay forced two interceptions. Edwards finished 11 of 18 for 102 yards for a passer rating that was a 37, more than two points lower than if all 18 of his passes fell incomplete.

Marshawn Lynch and Fred Jackson didn't run the ball well. Rookie C.J. Spiller was sharp on special teams, but not a factor on offense. The Bills' top playmaking receiver—Lee Evans—didn't catch a pass and was only targeted one time, when he drew a pass interference call for an offense that just kept sputtering.

Buffalo didn't gain a yard in the first quarter and only looked in rhythm momentarily when Jackson scored on a 3-yard run to cap an 80-yard drive early in the second quarter to cut Green Bay's lead to 13-7.

In the second half, Edwards was picked off by Brandon Chillar in Bills' territory after receiver Steve Johnson couldn't haul in the ball. Rodgers then threw a touchdown pass to Driver on third-and-goal from the 7 and scored again late in the third quarter with a 9-yard scramble that had his teammates laughing when he had a hard time leaping into the stands to celebrate with fans.

Rodgers capped his day by hitting Jones with a 30-yard TD pass to make it 34-7.

CHICAGO 20, GREEN BAY 17

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears were going nowhere and hearing it from the crowd. Good thing the Green Bay Packers were intent on giving this one away.

This one certainly wasn't pretty, even if the Bears remained unbeaten and established themselves as NFC contenders. Robbie Gould kicked a 19-yard field goal with 4 seconds left after Brian Urlacher forced a fumble in the closing minutes, and Chicago took advantage of a Green Bay team-record 18 penalties to beat the Packers 20-17 on Monday night.

Packers receiver James Jones lost a fumble on a hit by Urlacher before Green Bay's Morgan Burnett was called for pass interference on Earl Bennett, setting up the winning kick.

Jay Cutler threw for 221 yards for the Bears, (3-0), who kept insisting they were contenders through a sloppy preseason and less-than-inspiring opening win over Detroit. Since then, they turned heads with a win at Dallas last week and opened some more eyes against Green Bay—with lots of help from the Packers.

Urlacher jarred the ball out of Jones' hands after he caught a pass from Aaron Rodgers near midfield. Tim Jennings recovered, giving Chicago the ball on the Packers 46 with 2:18 remaining.

Soon after, another penalty cost the Packers (2-1) in a big way. On second down at the 33, Cutler tried to hit Bennett deep along the right sideline and Burnett basically hammered him, wiping out an interception by Devin Hester and putting the ball at the 9. Three plays later, Chicago walked away with a wild win and the only undefeated record in the NFC.

Devin Hester delivered his first touchdown return in three years when he ran back a punt 62 yards in the fourth quarter, giving the Bears a short-lived 14-10 lead.

Rodgers threw for 316 yards and a touchdown and scored on a 3-yard run that gave the Packers 17-14 lead in the fourth quarter. Jermichael Finley had nine catches for 115 yards, but the sloppiness simply caught up with the Packers in the end.

Cutler completed 16 of 27 passes with a touchdown and an interception. Johnny Knox had four catches for 94 yards. Chicago held its longtime rival to 63 yards rushing, but the Bears had only 77, turning it into an air game for much of the night. Hester had just put the Bears ahead in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter when the Packers responded with a 72-yard touchdown drive.

A roughing-the-passer penalty on Henry Melton gave them a first down at the 3. Rodgers, who cramped up a few plays earlier, rolled to his right and lumped into the end zone, making it 17-14.

Then the Packers basically gave it away. Frank Zombo got called for a helmet-on-helmet hit against Cutler on the next drive that erased an interception by Nick Barnett. On second down, Colliers got called for a late hit on Matt Forte after a 15-yard reception, putting the ball on the Packers 29.

Gould made a 25-yard field goal to tie it at 17 with 3:59 left.

GREEN BAY 28, DETROIT 26

Lambeau Field, Sunday, Oct. 3, 2010. Attendance: 70,729. Time: 3:03. Weather: 52° F. Humidity: 61 percent. Wind: NW 8 mph. GAME 4

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—As far as Aaron Rodgers is concerned, the Green Bay Packers offense is at its best when using multiple-receiver shotgun formations to spread out opposing defenses.

So when the offense went scoreless in the second half and the Packers barely held on for a 28-26 victory over Detroit on Sunday, Rodgers saw his team not playing to its main strength.

Rodgers chose his words deliberately but diplomatically, making his point without directly challenging his coaches.

It was another sign that the Packers remain unsatisfied with what they've shown the rest of the NFL so far this season. Despite their 3-1 start, they're a team with Super Bowl aspirations that has yet to prove it can play like one of the league's elite for a full game.

Rodgers threw for 161 yards and three touchdowns. But he also threw a pair of interceptions for the Packers, who were coming off a sloppy performance in a loss at Chicago on Monday night.

If Sunday's game didn't feel like a satisfying win for Green Bay, it also didn't feel like anything approaching a moral victory for Detroit (0-4). It was the franchise's 20th straight loss to the Packers in Wisconsin, a streak that began in 1992 and includes a playoff loss.

The Lions showed that they're more dangerous than they have been in the recent past, but it still wasn't enough to win.

The Packers appeared ready to rout the Lions when Charles Woodson returned an interception 48 yards for a touchdown and a 28-14 lead early in the third quarter.

But the Packers' offense went silent in the second half while the Lions rallied for four straight Jason Hanson field goals to cut the lead to two points. Had the Lions been able to finish any of those drives with a touchdown instead of a field goal, they might be celebrating a victory.

A last drive by the Packers ran out the final 6:32 of the clock as Green Bay rediscovered its running game at the best possible moment. Detroit again was without injured quarterback Matthew Stafford, but backup Shaun Hill looked poised under center. He threw for 331 yards and two touchdowns to Calvin Johnson, helping to make the game close despite the Lions committing 13 penalties.

WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 13 (OT)

FedExField, Sunday, Oct. 10, 2010. Attendance: 87,760. Time: 3:35. Weather: 72° F, Humidity: 46 percent. Wind: calm. GAME 5

LANDOVER, Md. (AP)—There are plenty of places to point when trying to figure out why the Washington Redskins are 3-2.

There's stability provided by new quarterback Donovan McNabb. There's the turnover-producing and suddenly points-strifing defense, led by safety LaRon Landry. There's also been help from injuries to opponents' key players.

In the home locker room after Washington's 16-13 overtime victory over the Green Bay Packers on Sunday, the Redskins uniformly pointed to one significant explanation for their success so far in 2010: coach Mike Shanahan.

For the fourth time in five weeks, Washington's game came down to the final play. On Sunday, it was Graham Gano's 33-yard field goal 6:54 into the extra period that made the difference, set up by Landry's diving interception of Aaron Rodgers at Green Bay's 39-yard line.

Rodgers sustained a concussion, the Packers said after the game, and it appeared to happen on that last play for their offense.

The Redskins trailed 13-3 entering the fourth quarter. They were outgained 209 yards to 24 in the first quarter. Seven of their first eight possessions ended in punts. Even once they made it 13-all on Gano's 45-yard kick with 1:07 left in regulation, the Redskins had to weather a Packers drive that ended with Mason Crosby hitting the left upright from 53 yards with 1 second left.

Under Shanahan's predecessor as head coach—Jim Zorn—and with McNabb's predecessor at starting quarterback—Jason Campbell—the Redskins went 4-12 last season.

Two of Washington's games this season have gone to overtime—including a 30-27 loss to Houston in Week 2—and two ended on passes thrown into the end zone by the opponent on the last play of regulation—including a 17-12 victory at Philadelphia last weekend.

The Packers (3-2), meanwhile, are dealing with a long list of injuries.

By game's end, linebacker Clay Matthews was on the sideline, wearing a green Packers wool cap instead of a helmet, ice strapped to his injured left hamstring. Tight end Jeremiah Finley was leaning on a pair of metal crutches, keeping weight off his hurt knee.

Green Bay also had tight end Donald Lee (shoulder), defensive lineman Ryan Pickett (ankle), and safety Derrick Martin (knee) leave.

The Packers stumbled on one big sequence early: Already ahead 7-0 early in the second quarter, they had second-and-goal at Washington's 1 and came away with nothing. Rodgers' fourth-down pass to tight end Andrew Quarless was broken up in the end zone.

Later, Washington's defense—a 3-4 scheme that ranks last in the NFL in yards allowed—was stuffing the Packers repeatedly. Green Bay's last seven possessions resulted in four punts, two missed field goals and Rodgers' interception.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Miami Dolphins have found a key to being effective: pound the ball, keep every game close and play as far away from Sun Life Stadium as possible.

There's no South Beach-like distractions in Green Bay, and the blue collar style the Dolphins play fits this colder climate than Florida's tropical temperatures.

With wins in Minnesota and Buffalo, Miami rules the Rust Belt.

The Dolphins are 3-0 on the road this season, and 0-2 at home. Miami needed to grind out another game using three field goals—including the 44-yard game winner—by Dan Carpenter and a perfect TD screen by developing quarterback Chad Henne to topple what had been considered one of the NFL's elite teams before injuries set in.

Green Bay (3-3) is a mess now after consecutive overtime losses.

The Packers can take solace in being just a game back in the NFC North chase despite injuries to eight starters, including five on defense. There's also the Lambeau Field showdown looming with Brett Favre and the Minnesota Vikings on Sunday night.

Henne's nifty 22-yard TD pass to Anthony Fasano gave Miami a 20-13 lead with 5:20 left, and Fasano ran untouched to the end zone with Long bowling over the last would-be tackler as Henne laid flat on his back.

Rodgers, who was sacked five times including three by Cameron Wake, tied it with a 1-yard TD on fourth-and-goal with 13 seconds to go, but the Dolphins had one more answer in overtime.

After the teams' exchanged punts with the Dolphins getting the better end of that deal and taking over at their own 48, Miami went to Ricky Williams and Ronnie Brown, who pounded the ball down to the Packers 26 before Carpenter hit the game winner on third down.

With so many injuries, Green Bay failed to get much pressure on Henne. Linebacker Clay Matthews, who has 8 1/2 sacks, was out with a left hamstring injury and Nick Barnett (wrist) went on the injured reserve on Friday.

Henne, with all the time he needed, finished 23 of 39 for 231 yards with two touchdowns and one interception. Top receiver Brandon Marshall made 10 catches for 127 yards and just missed a 25-yard TD grab late in the first half. He said the win was all the more impressive because he believed the Dolphins left 21 points on the field.

GAME 7

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Brett Favre spent what seemed to be an eternity sitting at his locker, head in hands, searching for something before approaching the podium. He limped to the microphone, finally beaten by his former team for the first time.

In the waning moments trailing by four, it looked as though Favre would accomplish what he'd done so many times before in a Green Bay Packers uniform by leading an improbable comeback as he limped down the field.

He threw an apparent touchdown pass to Percy Harvin with 48 seconds left, and the 41-year-old quarterback—in his 291st consecutive start—jumped into the arms of backup tight end Jeff Dugan and got a huge hug from Tarvarius Jackson.

But officials reviewed a would-be Vikings touchdown for the third time in the game, and the call was again reversed by the officiating crew. Over Favre in their third try, Green Bay is tied with Chicago for the NFC North lead. Minnesota (2-4) is 1 1/2 games back in third.

Favre, who finished 16 of 29 for 212 yards with a touchdown and three interceptions, hurt his surgically repaired left ankle early in the second half when Brad Jones pulled him down during his first pick. But a more costly one came when Desmond Bishop returned an ill-advised pass 32 yards for a touchdown to give the Packers a 28-17 lead midway through the third quarter while Harvin stood wide open on the other side of the field. Vikings coach Brad Childress was upset at Favre's turnovers, but even angrier at the officiating crew's overturned call that wiped out what would've been a 17-yard TD catch by Visanthe Shiancoe near the end of the first half. Childress believed Shiancoe had made the catch, even though the ball appeared to touch the ground.

While Minnesota had points taken off the board in the first half, Rodgers also struggled with early mistakes. He was 21 of 34 for 295 yards and two touchdowns, but threw two first-half interceptions in Vikings territory.

His streak of 173 attempts without an interception in the red zone to begin his career ended when Jared Allen jumped in front of a screen. Rodgers rebounded to throw TD passes to rookie Andrew Quarless and Greg Jennings that gave the Packers a 21-17 lead they wouldn't relinquish.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP)—It appeared Rex Ryan might have been on to something with all that Super Bowl talk. The New York Jets came in tied for the NFL's best record, had a five-game winning streak and were fresh off a bye week. Mason Crosby kicked three field goals for Green Bay, and that was all the Packers needed as they held the Jets off the scoreboard for a 9-0 victory Sunday.

Sure, it's only one game, but for a team with dreams of a championship parade, this was a stunner. Not so much that the Jets (5-2) lost to a good, but banged-up Packers (5-3) team. It was the way it went down that was disturbing. Mark Sanchez and the Jets' offense couldn't get much of anything going with some costly misfires and drops on a windy day, along with a couple of questionable calls by officials. Nick Folk missed a field goal, and punter Steve Weatherford failed to convert a fake on fourth-and-18 early in the game on a call overturned by a video replay.

Seven penalties and three turnovers didn't help the Jets, who were shut out for the first time since a 10-0 loss to Chicago on Nov. 19, 2006, at home. The Jets had a nice drive end in the fourth quarter when Dustin Keller caught a pass, rolled and then had the ball grabbed out of his hands by Charles Woodson. The Packers comeback jogged into the end zone while several players on both teams looked around bewildered. Woodson was ruled down by contact at the Packers' 43.

Replays showed it likely should not have been an interception, but New York was out of challenges after using both in the first half. The Packers capitalized on the turnover as Crosby gave them a 6-0 lead with a 41-yard field goal with 6:36 remaining. The Jets had another promising drive short-circuited in the second quarter when Tramon Williams ripped the ball out of Jerricho Cotchery's hands for an interception while the two were on the ground. The play was challenged by Ryan, but upheld by replay review.

Even with all that, New York still had a chance to win in the closing minutes. After turning the ball over on downs, the Jets held the Packers to a three-and-out and tried to finally get into the end zone trailing 6-0 with less than 4 minutes left. Following a 5-yard run by LaDainian Tomlinson, Cotchery couldn't hold onto a long pass from Sanchez, who was sacked on the next play by Clay Matthews. Sanchez then threw incomplete to Braylon Edwards, and the Packers took over.

Crosby sealed it with a 40-yard field goal with 27 seconds left. Rodgers, whom coach Mike McCarthy said sprained an ankle during the game, finished 15-of-34 for 170 yards. Sanchez was 16-of-38 for 256 yards and two interceptions and had at least four passes dropped by receivers. Despite missing several starters and losing wide receiver Donald Driver, who reagravated a quadriceps injury in the first half, the Packers hung in against the Jets' tough defense.

GREEN BAY 45, DALLAS 7

Lambeau Field, Sunday, Nov. 7, 2010. Attendance: 70,913. Time: 2:57. Weather: 43° F, Humidity: 62 percent, Wind: S 3 mph GAME 9

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Every time it seemed as though the Dallas Cowboys hit their low point, Aaron Rodgers and the Green Bay Packers knocked them down another notch.
Rodgers threw for 289 yards and three touchdowns. Brandon Jackson scored twice and Green Bay routed the free-falling Cowboys 45-7 on Sunday night.

It was a new nadir in a lost season for the Cowboys (1-7), who came into 2010 with Super Bowl aspirations. And it's sure to kick off a new round of speculation about the future of coach Wade Phillips, despite recent statements from team owner Jerry Jones that a midseason firing was unlikely.

James Jones caught eight passes for 123 yards and a touchdown for the Packers (6-3), who have won three straight.
Packers coach Mike McCarthy said he expected his team to play well—but even he was surprised at the lopsided result.

Green Bay's Clay Matthews added a final dose of embarrassment in the fourth quarter, picking off a pass from Jon Kitna and running it back 62 yards for a touchdown.
Dallas fell behind 28-0 late in the second quarter, giving up three long touchdown drives before fumbling away a kickoff that was returned for a TD by Nick Collins.

Return man Bryan McCann appeared to be down before he gave the ball away—but the Cowboys didn't have any timeouts left, so they weren't able to challenge the call.
It was yet another misstep in a colossal downward spiral for the Cowboys.

Meanwhile, the Packers continued to show how a team with Super Bowl expectations is supposed to handle a disappointing start to the season. It was an impressive performance by Rodgers, who hadn't been playing up to his own high standards earlier this year.

Green Bay has won three in a row after opening 3-3, including an emotional Sunday night home win over Brett Favre and the Vikings followed by a 9-0 road shutout of the New York Jets last week. Beating the talented but troubled Cowboys gives the Packers another boost of momentum heading into their bye week.

About the only serious mistake for the Packers was a personal foul penalty on Collins, flagged for a helmet-to-helmet hit on Cowboys receiver Roy Williams in the third quarter.
Longtime Packers receiver Donald Driver sat out with a quadriceps injury, but Jones and Greg Jennings were able to pick up the slack in the passing game. Jennings had seven catches for 80 yards and a touchdown.
