

2018 Packers Individual Report Card:Specialists

the Journal Sentinel

Posted: Feb. 2019

SPECIALISTS (3)

Mason Crosby: Five missed kicks in a game will certainly skew percentages, but it did happen to Crosby against Detroit. That said, his 81.1 percent conversion rate on field goals was better than a year ago but was just 24th in the league. His 94.4 percent conversion rate on point-after attempts was No. 18 in the NFL. Missed a potential game-winning field goal in the tie against Minnesota and game-tying field goal against Arizona but did make a game winner against San Francisco. Grade: D+

JK Scott: The fifth-round pick had one punt blocked and finished the year 22nd in average (44.7 yards per punt) and 27th in net average (38.8). He placed only 19 of his 71 punts inside the 20 (26.8 percent). He finished worst in the league in touchbacks with nine. And when teams did return Scott's punts, they averaged 10.3 yards, which was sixth-most in the league. Grade: D+

Hunter Bradley: There were some odd placements at times on field goals, but the ball never failed to reach Scott on place kicks or punts. Committed one penalty (holding) and made one tackle in punt coverage. Grade: C-